BADGER STATE IS DOUBTFUL, WRITER SAYS

Lawrence Believes That Smith Lead in Wisconsin May Decline in Month

BOB'S GROUP TO SPLIT

Hoover Likely to Divide LaFollette Vote in State With New Yorker

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Milwaukee—Wisconsin is a really doubtful state this year. It has more elements of confusion and perplexity than any other—at least any analysis of what is likely to happen here must take into account factors that are not found anywhere else.

The witness of Wisconsin is the thing to which Governor Smith appeared while here but there is cleavage between Progressivism and Conservatism which has become characteristic of Wisconsin and to trace it this year is unquestionably difficult. This is partly because Herbert Hoover is not the standard type of Republican who ordinarily is held up to contempt by the LaFollette Republican.

And it is partly due to the fact that Governor Smith has made a bid for the Progressive vote by his espousal of McNary-Haugenism and his denunciation of the power companies. The enthusiasm that a man like Senator Norris of Nebraska shows for Governor Smith and the outright endorsement given the New York governor by Senator Blaine, Progressive Republican have their effect here.

Were it not for the religious issue and prohibition it would be easy to assess the situation here by saying that Governor Smith is splitting the LaFollette vote about evenly with Herbert Hoover. The chances of Mr. Hoover carrying Wisconsin then would be undeniably good. But the Smith candidacy makes inroads in the regular Republican vote on religious and prohibition grounds. And there are some losses from the Democratic side for the same reasons, but the Democratic party is such a relatively small political unit in Wisconsin that the fight may really be said to be between the regular Republican and LaFollette Republican groups—each of the two candidates trying to burrow into those large groups and with a knowledge that the LaFollette is the larger and holds the balance of power.

BOB STAYS PASSIVE

Young Senator LaFollette is a candidate for re-election and his success seems assured. He is neither attacking nor supporting Hoover and is talking about progressive issues.

The general source of Smith strength in Wisconsin is Milwaukee and the lake counties. In sections such as Janesville and Madison and outlying parts of the state the LaFollette Republican vote is largely turning toward Hoover. Heavy voting is anticipated and the participation of women in larger numbers than ever before is everywhere remarked upon as a phenomenon of the campaign.

Governor Smith has made prohibition a definite issue in this state. His speeches have followed over the radio with intense interest. Yet there is no escaping the impression that his is an uphill fight and that his lead which is apparent today may not last through October.

In all these western states there is a decided confidence in Republican quarters that party lines will be followed more closely than the balloting begins than in the conversations of late September or early October. So at the moment it is safest to call Wisconsin doubtful and await the trend of the next several weeks before finally putting it in either the Republican or the Democratic column.

BORDENS TAKE OVER THREE OTHER PLANTS

New York—(AP)—The Borden Co. one of the world's largest dairy concerns, has bought the Thompson's Malted Milk Co. of Wisconsin, capitalized at $1,250,000. It was announced Wednesday. The Borden Co. has also acquired the Kennedy Dairy Co. of Madison, and the Clover Leaf Milk Co. of Chicago.

WORLD SERIES TO BE REPRODUCED ON P-C PLAYOGRAPH

The world series games between the New York Yankees and St. Louis Cardinals for the baseball supremacy of the world, which starts at New York City Thursday afternoon, will be played before Appleton baseball fans with practically all the color of the real game except the actual presence of the players and the huge crowds.

As in the past few years, the games will be portrayed on the playograph of the Appleton Post-Crescent which has been installed on the west side of the Y. M. C. A. building.

The first game, Thursday afternoon, will start at about 1:30 Appleton time. Go early to the field on the Y. M. C. A. tennis courts, and get settled to enjoy the game. It will be almost as realistic as the actual game. Returns from the game will be received over the radio and by telegraph.

Roosevelt Old Friend Of Al Smith

Nominee as Governor's Successor Backed Wilson Fight in 1912

New York—(AP)—Franklin Delano Roosevelt, nominated for governor of New York by the Democratic party, coined the phrase "the happy warrior" to describe his old friend Governor Smith, but his friends say it applies as well to himself.

From the time, as editor of the Crimson, Harvard's student newspaper, he fought for and obtained adequate fire escapes for the Harvard dormitories he has always been fighting, generally for someone else. He first became prominent nationally in 1912 when he took up the fight in Roosevelt's first election.

Roosevelt first entered politics actively in 1910 when he was elected state senator from Dutchess county, the first time that county had gone Democratic in 25 years.

While he was in the senate the friendship between himself and the rich, well-educated lawyer and Alfred E. Smith, the poor, self-educated young man from east side New York, was sealed. A friendship which led Roosevelt to be so honored. His fifth cousin, Theodore Roosevelt, was assistant secretary of the navy before he became governor of New York state and later president of the United States.

Nominated for vice president in 1920, Franklin Roosevelt spent the campaign boosting the head of the ticket, Governor James M. Cox of Ohio—again fighting not so much for himself as someone else. He was buried under the Harding landslide and retired from public life.

On his island home of Camp Belton, N. C., the following year he was stricken with infantile paralysis. For a long time his life was despaired of.

FOUGHT FOR WILSON

Roosevelt's fight for Wilson at Baltimore in 1912 attracted the notice of the wartime president who named him assistant secretary of the navy, the youngest man ever to hold that post, and the second youngest to be so honored. His fifth cousin, Theodore Roosevelt, was assistant secretary of the navy before he became governor of New York state and later president of the United States.

Nominated for vice president in 1920, Franklin Roosevelt spent the campaign boosting the head of the ticket, Governor James M. Cox of Ohio—again fighting not so much for himself as someone else. He was buried under the Harding landslide and retired from public life.

TALES ABOUT HOOVER HIT AS PURE LIES

War-time Badger Food Administration Says "Falsehood Campaign" Is on

Madison—(AP)—In a statement Wednesday Magnus Swenson of Madison, wartime food administrator for Wisconsin and an assistant to Herbert Hoover in the German relief work, asserted that a "vicious campaign of falsehood" is being conducted against Mr. Hoover in Wisconsin and denounced attacks on the food administration as "absolute lies."

"Scarcely a day passes but someone comes to me with reports of a vicious campaign of falsehood concerning Mr. Hoover's food administration and German relief work," said Mr. Swenson. "Among the charges being whispered are that Hoover said of the Germans, 'let them starve'; that he fed our soldiers on bran and gave the white flour to the French; that he diverted food, paid for by German-Americans for shipment to Germany, to other countries; that he reduced the price of wheat; that he raised the price of sugar; that he made millions out of the food administration and so on."

RUMORS PERSISTENT

"To one who knows Mr. Hoover such statements seem too absurd for notice. But so vigorously is this whispering being conducted that many persons believe the whispers to be true. I was federal food administrator during the war. After it I was called to Europe by Mr. Hoover to assist in the relief work. I was an eye witness to it all. For two years thereafter I was intimately associated with Mr. Hoover. I am qualified to answer these charges."

"I say, unequivocally, that every one of these charges is an absolute lie, as are all similar charges."

"It was Hoover who had a provision put into the armistice agreement that Germany should be fed. It was Hoover who fought almost alone to break the blockade lifted so that Germany could be fed, and it was not Hoover, but the French, who delayed so long the feeding of the country. Even before he left for Europe to administer relief, Hoover ordered large quantities of food and had them stored in ports as close to Germany as possible so that it could be quickly available."

HELPED GERMANS

"When he was finally successful, food was rushed to Germany and from March, 1919, until the end of the year, Germany alone received nearly one and one half million tons of food."

"Let it be remembered that every cent was certified to by experts accountants and that later all of the accounts were inspected by government officials and approved by congress. Hoover personally paid and let his traveling expense be paid and he was a heavy contributor financially, as well as physically, in helping Germany."

"He never fixed the price of any foodstuff, other than to insist after the war that prices of foods be sufficient high to protect the farmers and give them what they had been promised. As for making money out of the food administration, Hoover conducted it at a profit of about 50 million dollars, but not one cent of this went into his own pocket. It went back to the United States treasury."

JANESVILLE CHILD IS HIT BY TRUCK; DIES

Janesville—(AP)—Jane Riley, 4, is dead as the result of a skull fracture received when she was run over by a truck driven by Roy Palmer Tuesday. The child is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Riley of Janesville.

STRENUOUS CAMPAIGN IS TELLING ON CURTIS

Chicago—(AP)—Almost exhausted by the strenuous western campaign just completed, Senator Curtis, the Republican vice-presidential nominee, is seeking complete rest here this week preparatory to undertaking a new tour of the northwest next week.

Wednesday night the senator is on the program to address the meeting arranged by the Swedish American League of Chicago. But because of his weakened state he expects to make his remarks very brief. He is expected to leave for the northwest Sunday, the veteran campaigner will set out for Devils Lake, North Dakota, where he speaks Monday. His route goes over the tail end of the job of Governor Smith in the west and completed the circle by the time of Smith's travel. Tuesday the Republican vice-presidential nominee will speak at Duluth, Minn.; Wednesday at St. Paul, and Thursday at Minneapolis.

SARAZEN AND BARNES PLAY NECK AND NECK

Five Farms Course, Baltimore—(AP)—Gene Sarazen and "Long Jim" Barnes, playing the feature match of the second round of golf in the national professional golf championship tournament, finished their morning 18 holes all square, 180, each, with Sarazen leading by one stroke in the second nine.

The match was a close one, with Sarazen and Barnes evenly matched up at the home hole.

WRONG NUMBER, SAYS SIGN AFTER ATTACK BY ADLER STRIKERS

Milwaukee—(AP)—With a bill for $100 redecoration work in his hands and memories in his mind of two cans of paint that crashed through his front window and landed liberally bespattered the contents of his house, Richard Krumbiegel has decided to guard against misfire attacks in the future.

The result of his determination appeared Tuesday on the Krumbiegel front porch in the form of a neatly painted sign, three by six feet. Clearly and definitely it proclaims to all who may pass that no occupant of the Krumbiegel household is an employee of the Adler and Sons clothing company where a strike is in progress. Also it adds that the neighbor on his left is. The paint attack was intended for his neighbor's house, Krumbiegel thinks.

For night and day protection, Krumbiegel has attached a flashlight to shine on the sign.

Tough Job To Confine This Bandit

Convict Who Gained Wide Reputation as "Escape Artist" Free Again

Montgomery, Ala.—(AP)—Roy Dickerson, bank robber of notorious reputation and holder of undetermined skill, Wednesday was playing his favorite role of fugitive from justice. The convict, whose circus acrobatics in prison breaks have gained for him a wide reputation, risked his life under a charged wire at Kilby prison Tuesday night and fled in a limousine with two fellow convicts and three outside confederates. True to his often repeated boast that he never had "put a man on the spot and never would," Dickerson was no blood-shed.

A stranger approaching A. G. Richards, guard at a strategic corner of the "walls," at dusk Tuesday night with word that he had been sent to relieve the guard. Instead of a promised note from the warden, a pistol was shoved at the guard. Two other men overpowered Richards and adhesive tape was stretched across his eyes and mouth.

WALLS ARE SCALED

A rope was thrown over the wall from the outside and Dickerson with Ivanhoe Silva, Birmingham bootlegger "king" who also was convicted of robbery and Frank Cook, alias J. M. Cooley, Alabama burglar, scaled the walls. Flattering to avoid certain death, they squirmed under a high tension wire and joined their confederates in a large closed automobile. They were shot at near Tuskegee, Ala., but evaded detention.

Dickerson, who was said to have once been an "escape artist" on the legitimate stage, first gained attention as a bank robber in 1920 when he staged the Phenix City, Ala., robbery of the Phenix-Giard bank with his wife and several companions.

Captured in Los Angeles, he crawled through a ventilator in the jail roof and escaped over buildings within 24 hours. A year later he was surprised with the loot obtained in a jewelry robbery at Birmingham and sent to Kilby prison.

In 1923 Dickerson vanished from Kilby prison and nearly five years later, Dec. 24, 1927, after having been linked by officers with half a dozen bank robberies from coast to coast, he was captured in the act of looting a Tacoma, Wash., department store.

PLUMMER TAKES OUSTER CASE TO DANE-CO COURT

Fond du Lac—(AP)—Application for a writ of certiorari to determine if Governor Zimmerman was within his jurisdiction when he ousted Walter Plummer of Oshkosh as sheriff of Winnebago county March 30, has been filed with Dane county circuit court, by Attorney J. E. O'Brien of this city.

Herbert S. Hanson, Dane-co clerk of courts, said the writ is on his desk, but cannot be presented to court before Oct. 8, due to absence of judges. It is understood counsel for Plummer alleges that Governor Zimmerman threw out findings made by Attorney H. G. Piper, Milwaukee, who conducted a five weeks hearing of the case at Oshkosh, and that those findings exonerated Plummer. The claim is made that Plummer was not accorded trial before the one who heard evidence did not decide it.

BELOIT LEGIONAIRES GUARD EDITOR'S HOME

Beloit—(AP)—The Beloit American Legion has taken a hand in the recent series of window smashings in the home of Blaine Hanson, militant newspaper editor and world war veteran.

The Legion has adopted a resolution that this post organize as a unit with the object of protecting "comrade Hanson" and his family against a recurrence of these outrageous attacks.

One of the repeated rock attacks nearly hit the editor as he was returning to an Al Smith speech on the radio. Another entered by a front window bounded through the house and landed in the kitchen sink.

S O S CALL IS SENT OUT BY SINKING STEAMBOAT

New York—(AP)—The Radio Corporation of America picked up an SOS Wednesday afternoon from the Albatross, a 100-ton American tugboat, which was sinking fast and was unable to keep afloat.

The Radio corporation received another message from the Albatross, saying that she had sighted the Filler, which was being badly damaged, and was rushing to her assistance. The American radio today sent a wireless to the Albatross asking that she was making the assistance of the Filler, who was in distress in the lake. It was apparently on a errand of mercy that the Albatross sighted the Filler.

G. O. P. PLANS BIG RALLY IN EMPIRE STATE

Party to Make Most of Hoover's Visit in Al Smith's Home Town

BY JAMES L. WENT
Associated Press Staff Writer
Washington—(AP)—Herbert Hoover's visit to New York city, the home town of the Democratic presidential candidate, is to be made the occasion for the biggest Republican rally in the east during this campaign.

The celebration will begin early on the morning of Monday, Oct. 22, with the arrival of the Republican presidential candidate from Washington and will reach its climax in a mass meeting in Madison Square garden that night with Hoover delivering his sixth major address.

Charles Evans Hughes, once Hoover's colleague in the Harding-Coolidge cabinet and himself the Republican standard bearer in 1916, will share the speaking program with the presidential nominee, a program which will consume approximately two hours and be carried to the country over a radio hookup second only to that in use when Hoover delivered his acceptance address at Palo Alto on Aug. 11.

With its seating capacity of 20,000 the new Madison Square garden will afford accommodations second only to those furnished by the Stanford university stadium in which some 70,000 persons gathered to hear Hoover's maiden effort in his first race for an elective public office.

HAS SPECIAL TRAIN

Hoover will leave Washington by special train on the night of Sunday, Oct. 21, reaching New York early Monday.

While on his trip to Boston, where he is to speak on Monday, Oct. 15, the Republican candidate will take occasion to meet with leaders in that state and also stop over at Hartford, on the way back to Washington, to confer with Republican county and state officers in Connecticut. His special train also will stop at Springfield and other towns, where he will make rear platform appearances.

With the change in plans for the eastern campaign, the Republican nominee now is considering the desirability of one additional address somewhere on the Atlantic seaboard before he again turns westward for the final campaign drive.

TUNNEY AND POLLY LAUDER MARRIED TODAY IN ROME

Rome—(AP)—Surrounded by a little group of intimate friends and in the greatest simplicity, Gene Tunney, retired heavyweight champion and Miss Mary Josephine Lauder of Greenwich, Conn., who were married Wednesday morning in the Hotel Rurlo, Rome, Italy. Monsignor Joseph A. Breslin, vice rector of the American college and Tunney's former parish priest, performed the religious ceremony. Monsignor Eugene S. Burke, rector of the college, was present at both ceremonies. Signor Profferto, one of the leading Fascists, conducted the civil ceremony which preceded the religious one.

SMITH SATISFIED WITH STATE TICKET

"Roosevelt is as Good as He Ever Was — We Don't Need Acrobat," He Says

BY D. HAROLD OLIVER
Associated Press Staff Writer
Albany, N. Y.—(AP)—Satisfied with the results of his first campaign speaking tour and the state ticket selected Tuesday at Rochester, Governor Smith was back home Wednesday looking for a golf partner.

Coming from Rochester after attending the Democratic state convention, Governor Smith said that he could not have hoped for a better ticket, with Franklin D. Roosevelt, the man who nominated him for the governorship at Houston, and Theodore Dunham, compelling the latter to show cause, with Kohler why the name should not be withheld from the ballots. The grounds for this charge were several charges of violation of law on the filing of expense accounts by candidates for committee and other candidacy promoters.

WYLLIE'S ACTION CIVIL

Mr. Wyllie's action in the supreme court is a purely civil one to prevent Kohler's name from going on the ballot, while the Dane-co action is a criminal one, which might result in criminal prosecutions. Mr. Wyllie also denied any connection between the two actions.

The supreme court writ was made unanswerable Oct. 6, Saturday, but as that is the end of the week, and the major portion of supreme court business, in the way of argument and hearing of motions, is done early in the week, attorneys were expected to take the form of arguments by attorneys, there being no witness box in the supreme court chambers, while witnesses expected to present testimony on the examination in superior court. Sessions there are to be held after Judge Schein has devoted about an hour to his police court work in the morning. First announcements were to the effect that the investigative work would have to be carried on at night.

In a formal statement, Mr. Grady said the John Doe case would be argued shortly as are all John Doe hearings, that persons who were involved in the testimony would be notified so that they might present their side of any case, and that "throughout the proceeding the testimony remains unpublished and in the custody of the court. It is therefore safeguarded against use for any political or ulterior purpose."

LAKE STATES' COMPLAINT ANSWERED BY CHICAGO

ORDER KOHLER BEFORE HIGH BADGER COURT

Another John Doe Complaint Is Filed by Dane-co District Attorney

HEARING TO BE SECRET

Move to Drop Kohler's Name Not Directly Connected With Other Case

BULLETIN

Sheboygan—(AP)—Walter J. Kohler, Republican candidate for governor, was served with papers at Kohler at noon Wednesday ordering him to appear before the supreme court. Service was made by Otto Marquardt, Sheboygan constable.

Madison—(AP)—A new complaint was signed and filed late Tuesday against John Doe, secretary of a campaign committee, by District Attorney Glenn D. Roberts, as part of an investigation into alleged violations of the corrupt practices act during the primary campaign.

The complaint charges John Doe with filing false financial statement with the secretary of state in that it did not list every disbursement of over $5 nor did it disclose every obligation of more than $5 that had been incurred.

With two campaign fund investigations hanging fire, the capital Wednesday awaited the opening of legal motions that might oust Walter J. Kohler from the Republican nomination as governor, or might result in criminal action against him or others who may have violated the corrupt practices act.

DELAY OF DAY

Originally scheduled to start in Dane-co superior court Wednesday, the John Doe inquisition into alleged violations of the act by Daniel Grady, Portage, special counsel appointed by the secretary of state, will not go before Judge S. E. Schein until Thursday. Then it will be a secret proceeding, with newspapermen barred from the courtroom and no statements given out from there except when persons are cited for perjury, contempt of court by refusing to testify, or some other special occurrence.

This announcement came Wednesday from the office of District Attorney Glenn D. Roberts, who asked Judge Schein for the special counsel. The statement was aimed to forestall any charges of the investigation being called to make political "fodder."

Mr. Roberts and Mr. Grady denied any connection with the action started in the state supreme court Tuesday whereby Mr. Kohler is ordered to show cause why his name should not be stricken from the local election papers. Fred M. Wyllie, local attorney, asked the court for the order against Mr. Kohler, and Theodore Dunham, compelling the latter to show cause, with Kohler why the name should not be withheld from the ballots. The grounds for this charge were several charges of violation of law on the filing of expense accounts by candidates for committee and other candidacy promoters.

PHI BETAS CARRY HONOR PROGRAM TO SECONDARY SCHOOLS

Honor Students Will Receive Seal of Federation Upon Graduation

In an effort to offset influences which it believes are making for materialism and for an over emphasis on athletics, Phi Beta Kappa, national scholarship group, is planning to carry into the leading secondary schools of the United States a new national honors program.

Tentative plans are that when a student has been a member of the scholarship society up to the time of graduation he will receive, embossed upon his diploma, the seal of the federation and thus become a seal bearer. On entering college the incoming "seal bearer" will be assigned to an adviser who has majored in the particular field in which the new student is chiefly interested.

H. H. Heible, principal of the Appleton high school, states that Appleton high school will affiliate with the new organization, despite the fact that scholarship is already recognized by one national scholarship honorary society, which has scholarship, character, leadership and service for its membership requisites.

Particularly since the organization of the scholarship society last year, Appleton high school has been in step with the thought which is prompting the organization of the seal bearer federation. Scholarship has been emphasized ahead of athletics, and honor students are recognized every six weeks. Their accomplishment is given due publicity from the platform, in the Talsman and Clarion, and a special honor card is sent to the pupils' parents.

Last spring 10 students, eight of whom are now in Lawrence college, were inducted into the national scholarship group. They are: Agnes Glasnap, Ted Bolton, Lynn Handyside, Carlton Roth, Evelyn Stallman, Percy Menning, Clement Steidl, Aloysius Gage, Janet Carrcross, and Zora Colburn. Miss Ethel Carter is chairman of the faculty committee of the scholarship society, and Miss Beatrice Nielsen of the high school faculty became a member of the group when she was a high school pupil in Milwaukee.

Members of Phi Beta Kappa on the Appleton high school faculty are H. H. Heible, J. Ramond, Walsh, Misses Margaret Ritchie, Gertrude Thuss and Margaret Abraham.

SELECT QUESTIONS FOR DEBATE SEASON

Lawrence Representative Present at Meeting of Conference Coaches

Official debate questions for the 1929 debate season were selected at the annual conference of the mid-west debate league held at Chicago Saturday. Men will debate the question: Resolved That the Public Should Maintain Ownership and Develop Hydro-Electric Power Sources in the U. S. which it now Owns. Girls will discuss the question of installment buying from the following angle: Resolved That Installment Buying Should Be Condemned.

Professor A. L. Franzke, varsity debate coach, represented Lawrence at the conference at which 25 leading colleges from seven midwestern states were represented. Method of debate, selection of judges, and arrangement of schedule were some of the topics discussed by the different coaches.

The men's question, centering about the relative merits of public versus private ownership and development of hydro-electric power is one of the most important questions before the American people at the present time. It deals with such current topics as Boulder dam, the Columbia river project, Muscle Shoals and the St. Lawrence waterway. College interest in this question has been stimulated by important revelations recently made before the federal trade commission, which it is alleged points to a great campaign of corrupt propaganda involving some of the leading authorities in America.

All indications point to another successful debate season for Lawrence college. The six veterans, Arthur Mueller, Ervin Marquardt, William Herman, Dan Hopkinson, William Morton, Ernest Enquist, and Edgar Koch should prove to be a strong nucleus for this year's debate squad. The Viking debaters won every decision debate on their schedule last year.

PAIR FINED $900 ON DRY LAW CHARGES

Fond du Lac—Fines totaling $900 were imposed by Judge Chester A. Writes a woman: "Your advertising of used cars as 'family cars' means more to me than I can say.

"A second car would be more than a luxury in our family. After my husband drives away in the morning I have to take our daughter to school . . . It's quite a way off and I want to be sure that she gets there safely. Then I have to go to market . . . I do my best but I haven't the time to shop for the best I can get for our budget. Then I want to be sure my little girl gets back safely . . . Some days it is raining or snowing . . . And I must confess that I'd like to see more friends and take a real interest in civic matters . . . But what can a woman do? Though her business is outside the home too, she hasn't the use of a car."

The cars which General Motors dealers are taking in trade offer women an opportunity to have cars of their own at low price. And their purchase may be arranged on General Motors' plan of payments—the GMAC Plan.

New Auto License Plates Of State Will Be Green

Thirty-nine states will change the color combination for automobile license plates in 1929 and 23 different motifs will be used, according to a communication of the American Automobile Association sent S. L. Meisler, secretary of the La Crosse Motor club. Wisconsin will have white letters on green back ground.

There is a decided trend toward darker colors, the communication said and the "brunette" in license plates has gained a small lead over the "blonde." Although varied hues will be represented in the color schemes, nine states and the District of Columbia will retain last year's color combination, reversing them as to background and lettering.

No single color motif can be said to prevail, although six states and the District of Columbia will use yellow letters and numerals on a black background. This color scheme will therefore predominate in 1929, taking rank over the black on white motif which was used in five states in 1928.

Second honor will go to the orange on black combinations which will be used in five states, as compared to four last year. Four states will use a combination of white on black and the same number have adopted white on green.

Following are the 1929 colors for passenger cars for all states: Alabama, federal yellow on black; Arizona, white on maroon; Arkansas, gray on dark blue; California, deep yellow on full black; Colorado, white on dark red; Connecticut, white on maroon; Delaware dark blue on old gold; District of Columbia, chrome yellow on black; Florida, orange on dark blue; Georgia, orange on black; Idaho, orange on gloss black; Illinois, red on black; Indiana, black on orange; Iowa, black on dark green; Kansas black on canary yellow; Kentucky, white on Western Union blue; Louisiana, yellow on black; Maine, white on dark blue; Maryland, white on dark green; Massachusetts, white on black; Minnesota, white on maroon; Mississippi, white on black; Missouri, white on black; Montana, black on white; Nebraska, white on black; Nevada, black on orange; New Hampshire, dark green on white; New Jersey, white on dark gray; New Mexico, Tulodlan red on cream yellow; New York, black on yellow; North Carolina, white on blue; North Dakota, black on aluminum; Ohio, black on apple green; Oklahoma, yellow on black; Oregon, white on black; Pennsylvania, gold on blue; Rhode Island, black on white; South Carolina, gloss black on white; South Dakota, white on boxelder green; Tennessee, white on dark green; Texas, orange on black; Utah, federal yellow on black; Vermont, gold on maroon; Virginia, black on orange; Washington, white on green; West Virginia, orange on black; Wisconsin, green on white; Wyoming, maroon on pearl gray.

SOCIETY

COUNCIL EXEMPTS
NEW THEATRE FROM
TAXES FOR 5 YEARSAldermen Approve Establishment of Headlight Adjusting Station in City

Menasha—The balance of the general fund on Sept. 30 was $10,767.30 according to the monthly financial report read by City Clerk John J. Wabney, Jr., at the meeting of the common council Tuesday night. Other balances were: Water and light fund, $32,281.64; board of education, $5,462.78; industrial board, $11,142.28; library, $15,694.71; firemen pension fund, $8,423.24; cemetery, $4,836.12; recreation, deficit, $1,215.80; treasurer's balance, $87,892.92.

A resolution was adopted exempting taxes on the new theatre building for the next five years. The monthly report of the commissioner of poor showed that $79 had been expended in his department.

A dozen bids for the purchase of the election precinct buildings were read and rejected.

Menasha is to have an official headlight adjusting station with C. E. Pettengill in charge. The office was created through the adoption of a resolution following a visit of a representative of the Wisconsin Industrial commission who is installing them. An ordinance was adopted fixing 50 feet as the proposed width of Oak-st., which is to be widened.

The bid of A. E. Sawyer for replacing a sewer on Appleton-rd for $199, the contractor to furnish the material and labor, was accepted. Upon motion of Alderman Small the city attorney was instructed to notify the Wisconsin-Michigan Power company to remove the interurban tracks from the streets of Menasha before winter sets in. The company also was requested to remedy the static resulting from its high tension wires on Third-st.

TAYCA-ST BRIDGE IS CUT WITH TORCHES

Menasha—The old Tayca-st. bridge which has been in service for more than 42 years, was cut into pieces with torches Tuesday night and Wednesday and the pieces are now piled up on the north bank of the canal waiting to be disposed of. After the cutting was completed they were loaded on a barge by the derrick and hauled to the present location. Excavation for the new bridge and construction work on the coffer dams will commence within the next few days.

MORE CONTRIBUTE

Menasha—Among the latest contributors to the hurricane relief fund are the Gilbert Paper company, Wisconsin Tissue Mills, A. E. McMahon, Sisters of St. Mary church, Joseph Strzysak, W. W. Saecker, Miss Schlattman and Mrs. Fred Eckrich. Among other contributors are Carlton Smith, Menasha Woodware corporation, Marathon Paper company, E. A. Meyer, Miss Mabelle Gear, Oscar Friendland and Charles Friendland. Contributions may be left at the First National bank, Bank of Menasha, local druggists and Hotel Menasha. There are 400,000 homeless in Porto Rico and 15,000 in West Palm Beach, Fla., alone who are in need of food, clothing, medicine and shelter, the Red Cross, which is raising the money, reports.

CHURCH COLLECTS $200
FOR FLORIDA SUFFERERS

Menasha—A collection of approximately $200 was taken at St. Mary church Sunday for the relief of the storm sufferers of Porto Rico, Florida and other places. The money was forwarded to Bishop Paul Rhode of Green Bay. Similar collections are to be taken in all Catholic churches of the Green Bay diocese.

MOTORIST FINED $10
FOR RECKLESS DRIVING

Menasha—John Redner was arraigned before Justice F. J. Budney Wednesday charged with reckless driving on Mill-st. bridge. He was fined $10 and costs. Carl Musinski, arrested on a similar offense, was fined $5 and costs. He also was arrested on Mill-st. bridge.

WAUPACA ALDERMEN,
MAYOR VISIT CITY

Menasha—Menasha was visited Monday evening by the mayor and four aldermen of Waupaca, who inspected the street lighting system here with a view of installing something similar in their home city. They also visited the new filtration plant.

The Fraternal Order of Eagles has already commenced making plans for their third annual Christmas party which will be held at the church on Wednesday night. The party is for members and their families, particularly the kiddies, and a Christmas tree is always a feature. Santa Claus has always been in personal charge of the distribution of gifts and will be loaded down this year as never before. There will also be gifts for the wives of members and for members. A program will be held in connection with the presentation of gifts. On account of the membership being so large the event will be held in Menasha auditorium.

Menasha Royal Neighbors held a business meeting Tuesday evening at Knights of Columbus hall. Preliminary arrangements were made for holding a Halloween party Tuesday Nov. 6, and Mrs. Mayme Spellman was selected as chairman. Mrs. Theresa Bayer will be chairman of the next meeting, Tuesday, Oct. 16. The business meeting Tuesday evening was followed by cards. Prizes at schafkopf were won by Mrs. Emma Block, Mrs. Anna Mottl, and at whist by Mrs. Flora Borenz and Mrs. Ada Herman.

Mrs. Theodore Finch will entertain the Double Four club Wednesday evening at her home 837 Second-st. Cards will be played.

The Avanti club met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Theodore Finch, 817 Second-st. Bridge was played and the honors were won by Mrs. Mayme Altveier, Miss Kathryn Kozlowski, and Mrs. E. J. Fahrbach. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Emma Geibel, Paris-st.

HIGH SCHOOL GRIDDERS
MEET OCTOBER SATURDAY

Neenah—The high school football team will go to Oconto Saturday to play the school team there as its second game on the schedule. Coach J. Carson expects to take a large portion of his squad, as many of the boys have not as yet played and there is some good material on the sidelines which should come through. Hard practice is being conducted nightly to put the team into condition. Mistakes of last Saturday's game with Shawano have been corrected, new signals have been given out, and several new plays executed. A large group of fans is planning to accompany the team. The following Saturday the team is scheduled to play at W. DePere.

COUNCIL MEETING

Neenah—Routine business will be considered Wednesday evening at the monthly meeting of the city council. The finance committee met Tuesday evening to audit the bills which will be presented to the council meeting for payment.

COLUMBIA PARK
TO BE IMPROVED

City to Plant Trees and Shrubbery There and Erect Backstops

Neenah—Columbia park in the first ward will be improved by the park commission, it was decided at a meeting Tuesday in outlining plans for next year. Last year the board directed its attention to the completion of Doty Island park in the fifth ward. The first ward park will now receive attention, improvements to consist of planting shrubbery and trees in places which will not be used for athletic sports and children play ground activities. Backstops similar to those used on the new tennis courts, will be placed behind the home plate of both baseball diamonds. The city has just completed a new cement walk along the east end of the park to connect with Columbia and Franklin-aves.

16 ARE ELIGIBLE FOR
HIGH SCHOOL DEBATES

Neenah—Sixteen young people at the high school will be eligible to take part in debates this season, according to Miss Blanche Buck and John Holzman, coaches. A meeting was held Tuesday evening at which 20 boys and girls tried out for places on the several teams from which the two teams to represent the school in the north-eastern conference will be selected. Those who successfully passed the tryouts were Gordon Bennett, Laura Fahrenkrug, Kenneth Kitchen, Gertrude Larson, Dorothy Wenban, Meta Siefelt, Albert Fahrenkrug, Edith Schneller, Ruth Sawyer, Norris Madison, Alfred Reetz, Beryl Watts, Lowell Reydahl, Robert Mott, Edna Kolath and Robert Gillespie. The successful candidates were to meet at 3:30 Wednesday afternoon for instructions and for division into negative and affirmative groups.

FEWER MARRIAGES ARE RECORDED THIS YEAR

Neenah—The number of marriages in Winnebago co. in 1928 remains considerably less than in 1927, according to a report made Tuesday by George Manuel, Winnebago co. clerk. The report shows the number of licenses issued before Oct. 1 was only 414 as compared to 443 issued during the first nine months of 1927. Totals for the nine months' periods of the last five years also show there has been no appreciable increase in the number of marriages this year. In 1928 the total was 468; in 1925 the total was 316 and in 1924, the total was 420.

NEENAH CONTRIBUTES
$542 TO RED CROSS

Neenah—A total of $542 has been contributed by Neenah people to the Red Cross fund for Florida and southern hurricane sufferers, according to reports from the Red Cross office. The original quota was $500. Among the big contributors following the quota were the American Legion and high school. Junior Red Cross whose contributions were received Tuesday afternoon. The Red Cross will continue to receive money for this fund until ordered to stop.

GAS TAX BIG FACTOR IN BUILDING ROADS

Memphis, Tenn.—(AP)—That the gasoline tax has accomplished more toward construction of good roads than any other factor was expressed by Solomon Levitan, state treasurer of Wisconsin, to persons attending the North American Gasoline Tax conference here today.

With the development of good roads, the Wisconsin treasurer expressed need for interstate co-operation in road development by explaining that roads should be planned so that they are continuous from one state to another.

"Road building is too costly not to be planned with the greatest efficiency as the goal," Mr. Levitan said.

According to the speaker, the financing of road construction by means of the gasoline tax is the most equitable plan yet devised. "It eliminates the necessity of bonding the community for this purpose, and places the burden of cost on those who reap the direct benefits," Mr. Levitan said.

Good roads, according to the state treasurer stimulate industry, improve farm condition by making it easier to haul produce to market; are a humanizing element in the nation, and make for unification of the states.

Wisconsin Weather
Increasing cloudiness, probably followed by showers beginning late tonight or Thursday; warmer to night; cooler Thursday in west and north portion.

General Weather
The pressure is high over the Atlantic seaboard, with fair weather. An area of unsettled weather with light rains overlies the Tennessee and a portion of the Ohio valley. A extensive low pressure area overlies the Rocky Mountain and plains states this morning, with considerable cloudiness and mild temperatures. This "low" is extending its influence toward this section slowly and is expected to cause increasing cloudiness here tonight and Thursday, with temperature near or somewhat above the seasonal normal. Showers are probable by late tonight or on Thursday.

Many wealthy men point to the first $1,000 they saved as the real corner-stone of their success. Many fortunes have been founded on a single bond.

The investor just taking his first step is able to buy the same safe, productive bonds as the man with millions to invest. He can buy $100, $500 or $1,000 bonds, paying for them either in a lump sum or on monthly payments, as he prefers.

Once started, he finds a fascination in the growth of his funds—in the steady income from his coupons—in the ever-increasing momentum obtainable through compound interest. He becomes the big investor of tomorrow.

BUSINESS ENTERS INTIMATELY INTO POLITICAL WHIRL

Appointment of Raskob as Smith's Campaign Director Shows Modern Tendency

BY KIRK L. SIMPSON
Washington—Some day may be written a very interesting tale of the political adventures of John J. Raskob, who is taking his first plunge out of the realm of big business and into the whirlpool of practical politics as director general of the Smith-for-President drive and chairman of the Democratic national committee.

It is going to make a new page in American political history. It may foreshadow a closer knitting of the warp and woof of American life, with lines less sharply drawn than in the past between politics and other useful occupation.

For it seems quite clear now that, surprising as was Governor Smith's selection of Raskob instead of a Democratic political veteran to direct his campaign, it was only an outstanding development in a movement slowly gaining force in the country to draw the rank and file of American business more intimately into the political picture.

ON BOTH SIDES
A mere glance at the names of the two score and more directors of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States shows that Raskob is only one of several of this group of important figures in the business world to have embarked this year on active political work for the presidential candidate each favors.

John G. Lonsdale of St. Louis, president of the National Bank of Commerce, is functioning as a regional chairman of the "Democratic financial organization." John W. O'Leary, vice president of the Chicago Trust company, heads the division of the Republican national committee organization concerned with getting in small subscriptions to the Hoover war chest. Julius H. Barnes, once president of the national chamber and president of Barnes-Ames company of New York, is chairman of the Business Men's Hoover committee of that state. And so it goes, with nobody in Washington entirely certain as to just what active part in the campaign many others of the chamber directorate may be playing.

In the circumstances it is needless to say that the national chamber is self-addressed to its announced policy of rigid non-partisanship and political neutrality. With members of its directorate active on both sides of the vote getting warfare, it could not be otherwise.

BIG VOTE ONLY AIM
The only activity of the national chamber that may have a bearing on the outcome and which is detectable in the "get-out-the-vote campaign" launched by its civic department is its directorate active on both sides of the vote getting warfare, it could not be otherwise.

A considerable number of local chambers already were working to get out the vote, their activities antithetical to the present campaign. Others, however, find their membership so divided politically in a presidential year that they deem it wiser to preserve complete aloofness from politics for the time. Their position is as delicate in preserving a nice balance of neutrality between the two presidential candidates as that of the national body and they plan to avoid any action, however innocent of partisan motive, which might conceivably be misconstrued.

WELFARE GROUP OF CHAMBER IS NAMED

Committee, Headed by Dr. E. L. Bolton, Will Meet Thursday

Seventeen persons have been named on the chamber of commerce community welfare committee of which Dr. E. L. Bolton is chairman. A meeting of the committee will be held at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the chamber offices.

Five problems probably will be considered by the committee next year. They are the garbage disposal question, community chest, adequate sewerage disposal, a social case worker for the city and improvement of parks. Only one of the questions will be taken up and followed through this winter, according to Kenneth Corbett, secretary of the chamber of commerce.

GREEN BAY MEN TO BE ARRAIGNED ON OCT. 16

October 16 is the date set for arraignment of the three Green Bay men who were arrested last week on charge of aiding and assisting another man in being an officer. They were arrested following a dance hall fracas in Onida when Deputy Sheriff Henry Finkle was badly beaten. John Saunders, Green Bay, is out on $1,000 bonds on charges of assaulting an officer, and the other three men also are free on bonds. The men who are to be arraigned before Judge Theodore Berk in municipal court are: Roger Birch, Dale Anderson and George Goetzlaff. Saunders' hearing is set for October 25. Assistant District Attorney Stanley A. Staidl is the prosecutor in all the cases.

MINISTERS OF FOX VALLEY MEET HERE

Members of the Fox River Valley Ministerial association will meet in the Y. M. C. A. cafeteria at 12 o'clock Friday noon to discuss plans for church visitation committees, according to G. F. Werner, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. The Rev. G. E. Mitchell, of Milwaukee, state evangelist of the Baptist church will present the plan to the group. Other regular business matters will be discussed.

CORBETT TO ATTEND SECRETARY MEETING

Kenneth Corbett, secretary of the chamber of commerce, will attend the annual convention of members of the National Association of Commerce Organization Secretaries at Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 20 to 26. Each secretary will enter a display of publicity his chamber has gotten out during the last year.

Among the topics on the convention program are conservation of membership, ways and means of aiding local industries, and retail establishments in trade and agricultural programs. Sectional meetings are held throughout the convention, the sections being made of secretaries from cities of like size.

13 GIRLS NAMED ON FRESHMAN BOARD

College Girls form Organization to Promote Social Activities in Class

Thirteen girls were elected to freshman commission at a meeting held at Ormsby hall Monday evening. The group is composed of seven girls from Ormsby, three from Peabody and three from town.

The Ormsby representatives are Phoebe Nickel, Ann Maller, Jeanette Jenkens, Alphonse Espeseth, Lucile Ozane, Mary Van Meter and Jane Olmstead. Those from Peabody are: Cecilia Baldwin, Lynn Handeyside and Joyce Jensen. Elaine Ackerman, Margaret Keller and Ramona Husemann represent the town girls.

Following the elections led by Helen Rudin, former president, Miss Ruth Norton, faculty advisor, reviewed the activities of last year's commission. An all-freshman dance held in the dining room of Ormsby hall and a masquerade party for girls were sponsored by the group. Sales held during the year made it possible for the commission to leave a gift to Ormsby hall.

The purpose of freshman commission is to promote social activities among members of the class and to deal with any problems which concern the class as a whole.

SPOOR COMPANY ADDS ANOTHER MAN TO FORCE

C. E. Walters, Milwaukee, one of the oldest advertising agency men in the state, has joined the Russell H. Spoor company, according to announcement made Monday. Mr. Walters conducted his own agency in Milwaukee for many years and more recently has been with the Koch company and Hannah-Crawford company, both Milwaukee advertising agencies.

CHAMBER COMMITTEES PLAN JOINT MEETING

The committee in charge of the Community Builders campaign and the new publicity and convention committee of the chamber of commerce will meet in a joint session at 12:15 Friday noon at Conway hotel. H. L. Davis is chairman of the builders committee and Homer Benton is head of the publicity committee.

The purpose of the meeting is to determine whether the campaign now being run is to continue and to discuss future activities in the way of community advertising.

It's among members of the class and to deal with any problems which concern the class as a whole.

Advance of Medical Science Amazing

By L. N. CONRAD

Head of Sargon Laboratories Tells of the Many Startling Discoveries That Have Been Made by Medical Science Within Recent Years, Which Will Add Greatly to the Health and Efficiency of Mankind—New Formula, Sargon, Represents Some of Our Latest Knowledge.

AS HEAD of the Sargon Laboratories I was directly responsible for the development of the Sargon formula. I am therefore particularly elated over the success of the preparation.

Placed on the American market less than six months ago, Sargon is now the leading topic of conversation in the drug trade. Wholesale dealers are buying it in carload lots, and in each of the leading cities where it has been introduced, it has required and average of from 40,000 to 50,000 bottles to supply the demand.

Sargon is the result of the last ten years of world-wide scientific research; it embodies new knowledge of certain organs and fluids of the body recently come to light; it is helping build up run-down men and women by modern methods undreamed of a generation ago. Let me explain:

Thanks to modern laboratories, with their marvelous equipment, the advance of medical science during recent years has been extraordinary. Yellow fever has been conquered, diabetes can be held in check, typhoid is preventable, the mortality from diphtheria has been reduced to a minimum.

These are all highly dangerous diseases, with which comparatively few are afflicted; but science has also been at work on the problem of overcoming the common ills of mankind. The results are truly astonishing. For example, authorities now agree that the cause of most stomach trouble has nothing to do with the stomach. Strange as it may seem, in the majority of cases, the source of indigestion is the liver.

THE explanation is simple. The liver manufactures bile, which then flows through a duct into the duodenum to be mixed with the contents of the stomach. It is the recent discovery of what bile does when it mixes with the contents of the stomach that have revolutionized the knowledge and treatment of many of the ailments common to the digestive tract.

For bile—once regarded as a poisonous distillation of the body, producing biliousness, nausea and other unpleasant symptoms—is now known to be a veritable magic fluid which aids the entire process of assimilation and elimination, on which life and health so largely depend.

Here are some of the astounding things that bile accomplishes when it reaches the digestive tract. The contents of the stomach is acid; bile turns this acid mass alkaline and so prevents hyperacidity. Bile is a powerful digestant; it mixes with the food and helps to make it ready for assimilation. Bile is an antiseptic; passing into the intestines it checks bacterial growth and so prevents the formation of gas. Last but not least, bile is Nature's own laxative, so certain in its action that a normal flow of bile is an almost certain preventive of constipation.

HAVING discovered these things about bile, Science went further. It was noted that a large percentage of the adult population among civilized races, had symptoms which strongly indicated a lack of this all-important body fluid. A series of investigations resulted which began with the liver. This is what was learned:

The liver, although the largest organ in the body, is easily deranged. It is slowed down by lack of exercise in the fresh air and by too rich or too much or too hastily eaten food. It was discovered that the average man or woman requires three pints of bile a day if good health is to be maintained. This enormous amount of bile must be manufactured by the liver. In seven out of ten people past the age of thirty the liver was found to be sluggish. It was failing to supply the necessary amount of bile.

In other words, most of the half-sick, run-down people today who have sallow complexion, headaches, coated tongues, bad breath and low vitality, who are troubled with indigestion, gas, dizziness and constipation, are not getting enough bile. It isn't stomach, it isn't the bowels—it's simply lack of bile caused by a sluggish liver slowed down by modern sedentary conditions of living.

NOW wild animals or the people of savage tribes are not troubled with indigestion, constipation, etc. The best way to keep the liver up to standard is to run wild out-of-doors and eat simple, unseasoned food. Since this is impossible for millions of the human race, Science set about finding a substitute.

The first thing tried was Calomel, which was supposed to be the most powerful known stimulant to the liver. The results were so disappointing that an investigation of this drug was begun. The conclusion reached is hard to believe but can not be disputed. Calomel has no effect whatever on the liver or bile flow. It acts as a purgative and nothing else.

This discovery led to a research throughout the chemical world for something that would really stimulate the liver. The search was rewarded. A harmless substance was found which gently but steadily forces the liver into normal activity, thus increasing the flow of bile into the digestive tract.

This substance has revolutionized the treatment of indigestion and constipation and their attendant ills. We no longer need rely on dyspepsia tablets or hot water and soda, which afford at best only temporary relief. It is no longer necessary to continually blast out the intestines with harsh cathartics which never cured constipation and never will. We can now get at the source of most of these troubles and overcome them with Nature's own digestant and laxative—bile.

THE above-mentioned substance is one of the three principal ingredients contained in Sargon. It is also contained in greater concentration in Sargon Soft Mass Pills, which should be taken in connection with Sargon until normal bile flow is established and constipation disappears.

In addition to this recently discovered substance which increases bile flow, Sargon contains two other principal ingredients which I shall discuss in subsequent articles. I shall say here, however, that one of these ingredients is the outcome of the recent discovery of haemoglobin, the true oxygen-carrying agent of the blood stream, increasing the supply of which aids in making rich, red vigorous blood.

The third principal ingredient in Sargon has to do with the startling discovery of the importance of glandular secretions and how to supply the endocrine glands with a certain chemical which aids their necessary functions.

These three principal ingredients which Sargon contains are the answer of Science to the demand for modern medicinal agents with which to combat the run-down condition induced by modern life. Each one of these ingredients is designed to aid in restoring the balance of one of the three important chemical actions, going on constantly within the body, on which good health largely depends.

ALL three of these ingredients are being prescribed, separately, by advanced medical thought. They have never before been combined, owing to the great difficulty of holding them in solution together. A distinguished chemist, the head of the department of biochemistry in a great American university, succeeded in doing so. His secret method and formula are now the property of the Sargon Laboratories and can be used by no other firm or individual in the world.

While Sargon is called a "tonic," it is far from a better word. It must not be confused with old-fashioned tonics, limited in their action to a stimulative effect. If Sargon increases the appetite and zest for living it is not by temporary stimulation of the heart and nervous system.

The effect of restoring bile flow to normal, for example, is alone sufficient, in most cases, to produce a feeling mental and physical buoyancy and an increase in bodily vigor.

The man or woman whose food is being half-digested, whose intestines are charged with poisonous, gaseous waste, is sure to be the victim of auto-intoxication with its inevitable general depression. Increase the flow of bile and Nature's magic fluid, in purifying the intestinal tract, removes the cause of the depression and you have a tonic effect.

COUNCIL WILL ACT ON BUILDING HEIGHT

Expect Aldermen to Approve Ordinance in View of Public Hearing

Disposition of the charter ordinance increasing the building height limit in Appleton from 90 to 125 feet probably will be made Wednesday night at the regular midmonthly meeting of the common council at the city hall. The ordinance committee, to which the ordinance was referred, is expected to make a favorable recommendation on the matter, and no difficulty in securing adoption of the ordinance by the council is anticipated.

In order to make sure of public sentiment toward increasing the height limit of buildings here, the ordinance committee conducted a public hearing on the proposed ordinance last week and not a single objection to the ordinance was heard. The consensus of opinion among those present was that the ordinance should be adopted by the council to permit Irving Zuehlke to build a 10-story office and store building which he has under consideration at the corner of College-ave and Onelida-st. Not only will the building be valuable addition to the city, but it will alleviate the crowded condition of office room now apparently existing in Appleton, it was brought out.

It is likely that the debate over construction of the subway on E. Wisconsin-ave, ordered built by the railroad commission, will be resurrected. The city must answer by Tuesday, Oct. 9, and alternate writ of

GET RID OF YOUR FAT

Thousands of others have gotten rid of theirs by my simple and efficient method of fat reduction without starvation diet or burdensome exercise, often at a very rapid rate and WITHOUT PAYMENT until reduction has taken place.

I am a licensed practicing physician and have made a careful study of the physiological requirements of the human body. This has enabled me to select such ingredients and in such proportion as in my opinion will produce not only a loss of weight without harm and an improvement in health, but with it an alleviation of all of the troublesome symptoms which frequently accompany and often are a direct result of overweight, such as shortness of breath on slight exertion, palpitation of the heart, etc., not to speak of the relief from the embarrassment of being too stout. Stout persons suffering from such diseases as Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Eczema, Asthma and high blood pressure are greatly relieved by a reduction of their superfluous fat.

My treatment will relieve that depressed, tired, sleepy feeling, giving you the renewed energy and vigor which come as a result of the loss of superfluous fat.

If you are overweight do not postpone but sit down right now and send for my FREE TRIAL TREATMENT and my plan whereby I am to be PAID ONLY AFTER REDUCTION HAS TAKEN PLACE if you so desire.

CITY WILL BORROW $50,000 TO MEET COMING EXPENSES

Action Is Authorized by Common Council at Tuesday Session

Kaukauna—It was decided by the common council Tuesday evening to borrow $50,000 to meet paving and other expenses of the city. The resolution authorizing such action was introduced by Alderman B. N. Faust and was adopted unanimously by members of the council.

A petition for installing an art light on the corner of Seventh and Tenth-ave was read and approved. The petition was signed by private owners in the vicinity.

It was voted by the McCarty Construction company $15,000 for paving done on the north side. Of this sum, $5,000 will be paid by the county.

Alderman W. H. Cooper moved that the city draw up a resolution to be put on file that the city would not be responsible for any accidents that might occur on account of the tracks on Lawe-st and Wisconsin-ave.

Alderman G. L. Smith read a resolution making Chief of Police R. H. McCarty headlight testing officer of the city. A headlight testing, owned by Edward Knapp, will be operated at 115 Third-st.

Alderman Smith also discussed the establishing of a grade in the city and then making all new paving conform to the grade. He said that no certain grade is being followed at the present time and that there are too many hills and hollows in the streets now. He said that the St. Mary new school is being built on a grade and that the ameisite dump is being put there will make the school appear as if it were built in a hollow.

"It is time for Kaukauna to stop dwelling in the past," he said, "and step out and plan for the future." The city engineer, C. M. Charlesworth, and members of the south road district will investigate the matter immediately, and it is possible that the rise in the cut in front of the school will be cut down before the ameisite is laid.

Aldermen discussed the possibility of a bond to raise money to operate for the rest of the year. The matter will be threshed out at the next meeting.

Several property owners appeared in regard to a sewer on Jefferson-st. There are some complications that will make the sewer expensive, and the city attorney will go to Madison Saturday and lay the matter before the state board of health. The problem of laying sewers on the island will also be taken up at Madison. The council adjourned until October.

MOTORIST INJURED AS CAR AND TRUCK COLLIDE
Kaukauna—An Outagamie-co road truck, driven by Nick Mueller of Kaukauna, and a car owned and driven by Dewey Hartjes, Freedom, were badly damaged as a result of a collision on highway 41 near Rose Hill about 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

The truck had backed off the road and had turned to cross the left side of the road when a car driven by Hartjes struck it. Hartjes was going south on the road and hit the truck a glancing blow on its left front and then ran off the road striking a tree. He was knocked unconscious for about five minutes and received a cut on his right arm. His car was badly damaged on the right front side and the truck was damaged on its left front side.

The Ladies Aid society of Immanuel Reformed church will meet in the church assembly at 2:30 Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. J. D. Finnigan, Kingsville, Texas, formerly Miss J. L. Turner of this city, was a guest of the woman's club at a luncheon Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. M. A. Raught on Eighth-st. Hostesses were Mesdames D. E. Zekind, L. S. Nelson, William Harwood, R. M. Radsch, Dr. E. Bolinski and Miss G. Donahue. Mrs. E. Farwell gave instrumental music. Mrs. W. P. Hagman delivered the president's greeting and Mrs. H. L. Donahue sang a solo.

A playette, "How the Club was Formed," was presented to the club. The cast: Miss G. Donahue, Mesdames R. Nelson, E. Haas, John Cleland, Ben Prugh, William Breier and Dr. C. Boyd. Yearbook were issued at the meeting. Mrs. W. P. Hagman was selected first and Mrs. J. H. Haas second delegate to the Woman's club convention at Wisconsin Rapids on Oct. 9, 10 and 11. Mrs. P. Grogan was appointed delegate to the Social Service conference in Milwaukee this week.

The regular weekly meeting of Odd Fellows will take place at 7:30 Thursday evening in the Odd Fellows' hall. A class of candidates will be shown the Initiatory degree.

The regular meeting of the DeMolay chapter will take place in DeMolay hall at 8 o'clock Thursday evening.

Sixty-five people attended the Lady Foresters covered dish banquet at 7 o'clock in the north side Forester hall. After the banquet the business meeting took place and a class of 14 candidates was initiated. The hall was decorated in autumn leaves. Cards were played and prizes were won by Mrs. E. Franz and Mrs. C. Lamers, in bridge, Mrs. Edward Bay and Miss Helen Esler in bridge and Mrs. E. Gillen and Mrs. C. Faust in schafkopf.

MORE BOYS THAN GIRLS USE POOL
1,489 Swimmers Registered at Municipal Pool Last Month
Kaukauna—Seventy more boys used the municipal swimming pool in September than girls, according to the monthly report of Jacob Hoyde, attendant. A total of 1,489 swimmers used the pool during the month. This is 2,926 less than the number for August. Children now have to attend school daily until 3:30 and there is not much time left for swimming. Cold weather also reduced the number of swimmers considerably. During the first part of the month, the number of swimmers was as large as usual, but toward the middle of the month the slump began.

During the month the swimming pool was closed for the evenings. Lack of patronage caused this action. The pool had been open four nights a week, two for men and two for women.

The total number of boys to use the pool was 781 and for girls 708. The highest number to use the pool in one day was 199, which was on boys day. The lowest number of swimmers in one day was 12, which happened once on girls day and once on boys day. The slump at the pool is steadily going down. Last year the pool was closed most of the winter, as there were not enough swimmers to use it.

STORK WAS BUSIER IN KAUKAUNA LAST MONTH
Kaukauna—The stork was busy in Kaukauna in September, according to the monthly health report of City Physician, Dr. W. N. Nolan, which shows that 18 births were recorded. This is the eight more than in August. Five deaths occurred during the month, which is three less than in August. Three marriages took place compared with two in August. The city's health condition is excellent. There are no epidemics or contagious diseases in the city.

FIVE PAY FINES FOR PARKING TOO LONG

Police Nab—Motorists Because Cars Are Parked Longer Than 90 Minutes

Five Appleton persons were fined $1 and costs each by Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court Wednesday morning when they pleaded guilty of violating the time-limit parking ordinance which is in effect on College-ave between Drew and Elm streets. Two other arrested on the same charges still are to appear in court.

Those who paid fines were: Carl Peotter, 621 W. College-ave; Mrs. George Simons, 1121 N. Oneda-st; Sidney M. Cohen, 1508 N. Morrison-st; M. Carey, 543 N. Appleton-st; and L. A. Carey, 518 E. Minor-st. Those still to appear in court are Nick Menning, Xenah, connected with an Appleton auto concern, and George Jager, 803 N. Morrison-st. All were arrested Tuesday by Officer Joseph Rankin.

The ordinance went into effect several months ago but police started enforcing only last week. For the first few days motorists were warned and those people fined Wednesday are the first to be penalized under the new law.

OTHERS WARNED
According to Police Chief George T. Prim, a number of cars belonging to out-of-town people also were tagged Tuesday but the owners were let off with a warning. In a few days the chief said that out-of-town people as well as local residents will be taken to court for violations of the ordinance.

"People living in Appleton have had sufficient notice of the parking ordinance setting a time limit on College-ave and they cannot expect any further leniency," the chief said Wednesday. "From now on all violators will be taken into court regardless of any excuses they might offer."

The new law provides that cars cannot be parked on College-ave on week days for longer than 90 minutes between the hours of 9 o'clock in the morning and 6 o'clock in the afternoon. On Saturdays the law remains in effect until 9 o'clock in the evening and on Sundays it is not in effect at all.

George Ashman, 206 S. Cherry-st, was fined $1 and costs by Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court Wednesday morning when he pleaded guilty of violating the city parking ordinance. Mr. Ashman was arrested Tuesday by Officer Joseph Rankin for parking his car in a restricted zone at the corner of College-ave and Morrison-st.

CAR RUNS AMUCK ON COLLEGE-AVE

Woman Loses Control of Machine When Gas Feed Becomes Caught

A defective steering apparatus and gas feed is believed to have caused a smashup in front of the Wisconsin Michigan Power company on E. College-ave about 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. While driving east on College-ave, Miss Viola Handler, 658 Tayco-st, Menasha, tried to pass a car and in doing so the gas feed attached to the steering wheel was pulled down and locked automatically causing her to lose control of the machine, it was reported. With a roar from the speeding motor the machine swerved across to the left side of the road and crashed into a car owned by William Timm, 225 E. Commercial-st, and sent it crashing into a new car bearing an Illinois license.

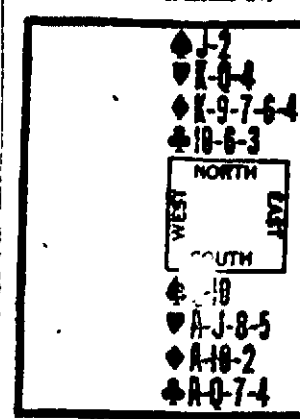

The Timm machine was badly damaged in the rear. A wheel was

THE ANSWERS
30. Dummy should play the Trey of Clubs, and Closed Hand the Ace. Because of the danger of the Spade suit, South should win with the Ace of Clubs, making the adverse King good when he could take with the Queen and retain the Ace. The adversaries will make at least five Spade tricks if they start that suit. Declarer cannot make game merely by running his high-card tricks; two Clubs, four Hearts and two Diamonds would leave him one short of his goal. If he showed West that he held control of the adverse Clubs and started to establish Dummy's Diamonds, West would be apt to shift to the Spade suit when he won a Diamond. South can make game if he can run Dummy's Diamonds before the adversaries take five tricks; consequently should play the Ace of Clubs on the first trick in an attempt to deceive West, and induce him to place the Queen of Clubs in the East hand and continue that suit when he next obtains the lead.

31. South should lead the Five of Hearts and North should play the Queen to get the lead.

32. North should lead the Four of Diamonds and, unless East play the Queen or Jack of Diamonds, South should play the Ten of Diamonds. The Diamond trick that must be lost is surrendered immediately with the idea of placing West in the lead and with the hope that West will continue Clubs.

WOMAN DRIVER CAUSES DAMAGE TO 3 CARS

Three cars were slightly damaged about 4:15 Tuesday afternoon in front of 112 E. College-ave when Mrs. Viola Handler, 658 Tayco-st, Menasha, backed from a parking place at the curb. The machine, owned by the Chrysler garage at Menasha, backed into a coupe owned by William Timm, 225 E. Commercial-st. This car in turn was shoved into a third parked car, owned by G. Dennis, Chicago, Ill.

STAGE And SCREEN

FARRELL AND NISSEN SUPERB IN "FAZIL"

Glamorous scenes on the waters of Venice, in Parisian ballrooms and under Eastern skies in Arabian palaces and harems, comprise the sweeping background of "Fazil" Fox Film production which opened at the Elite Theatre Monday. Charles Farrell and Greta Nissen are the featured players.

It is a colorful romance of an Arabian Prince and a beautiful French girl, and the love scenes between the bronzed man of the desert and the pale Parisian blond are effectively acted. There are many eye-filling scenes, particularly the ballroom scene, the scene in the Prince's harem, the Venetian scenes and the scenes in the Prince's palace. Also, there are many moments of genuine thrill, among them the scene in which the French girl escapes from the Prince's palace. Charles Farrell is handsome in his rich Arabian trappings, while Miss Nissen has never seemed more beautiful or more gorgeously gowned. The two make an excellent pair and their love scenes together are vividly realized. The picture ends its engagement at the Elite Theatre on Friday.

"HIS TIGER LADY"
Adolphe Menjou's latest Paramount starring vehicle, "His Tiger Lady," on the screen today and Thursday at Becker's Appleton Theatre, is the story of a practical joke that turned into a real love affair between a rich woman and a 'super' of the stage.

Menjou plays the role of a minor actor in the cast of the Folies Bergeres. His only apparent ability is to look majestic while astride an elephant in the gay opening number. One of the habitués of the Folies is the wealthy Tiger Lady, who attends every night, for lack of anything else to do. From his perch atop the elephant, Menjou always studies her and she becomes an idol to him.

The other members of the cast notice this and write a note to the 'super' saying it with the Tiger Lady's name, inviting him to visit her. As he is about to start off on this mission, the stage manager and others back of the footlights ruin his only suit of clothes, so he is forced to make his call in the costume that he wears on the stage, that of a maharajah.

Menjou wins the Princess, which role Evelyn Brent plays, but not until he goes through numerous adventures, one of the thrilling being his conquest of a ferocious tiger. During the entire action of the story, Menjou's far-famed dress suit does not put in an appearance. Hobart Henley directed the pro-

Cardinals Grim And Earnest In Pre Series Practice

Yankees Have Little To Worry About; Alibis Made

New York.—(AP)—A squad of badly crippled New York Yankees will start the world series with the St. Louis Cardinals at the Yankee Stadium Thursday afternoon.

With a more or less definite announcement from Huggins that Earle Combs, injured centerfielder, would see action in the big series only as a pinch runner, if at all, Yankee stock dropped to a new low. The odds most frequently Wednesday favored the Cardinals at 5 to 3. There was little betting, most American league partisans preferring to wait for even longer odds.

To some observers it appeared that the Yankees, in reality, are occupying a rather enviable position and that Bill McKee and his healthy Cardinals should be doing all the worrying. In case of defeat, the Yankee alibi is prepared in advance, however, unintentional upon the part of the reigning world's champions. On the other hand, the Cardinals at full strength, must win and even then may not get the credit due them.

Apparently the Cardinals realize it in their practice sessions at the Yankee stadium where the series opens at 1:30 eastern standard time Thursday, they have had no time for jokes. They go about their business in grim earnest, impatient for actual conflict to begin.

The Yanks on the other, act as though they have not a care in the world. If Combs and Penneck are out, and Lazzari, Koenig and Roth, crippled, the American league titleholders appear untroubled just the same.

The rival managers are reticent as to their pitching selections for the opening game but they'll cross up a lot of expert observers if Waite Hoyt does not start for the Yankees and "Wee Willie" Sherdel for the Cardinals.

If Sherdel pitches for the Cards, Ben Paschal will be in centerfield for the Yanks and "Jumping Joe" Dugan, in all probability, at third. If McKee picks a right hander, Cedric Durst will play the outfield and Gene Robertson third base. McKee's only lineup change to meet the assorted brands of pitching will be made in right field. George Harper will play right field against right handers and Wattie Holm against the southpaws. Under present plans only two catchers will see service, Bengough for the Yanks and Jimmy Wilson for McKee's crew.

Provided these pitching choices go through, the lineups and Pignas probably will be matched in the second game at the stadium on Friday, with Alexander and Zachary rival moundmen in the third game at St. Louis on Sunday.

With Combs out, Huggins will shift his batting order to bring Mark Koenig up to the leadoff position with Durst or Paschal further down the line.

VIKINGS PREP FOR SATURDAY'S GAME

Spend Hour Scrimmaging With Frosh and Perfecting Defense

The 6 to 0 trimming that Lawrence college gridgers took Saturday from Oshkosh normal seemed to be nothing in their young lions' Tuesday evening as the squad lined up for their first practice out of doors Tuesday evening. And when the night's session was over, sometime about 6:15, the squad appeared to look better than ever.

The first part of the evening was spent in teaching the line men how to play against the various types of secondary defense, which Marquette possibly will use Saturday while Eddie Kotal had the back field men down in another corner rehearsing their ball carrying devices. Faults that the men made Saturday were pointed out to them and special emphasis laid on the remedy.

Following the review session the team was placed on the field for an hour's scrimmage and what they did to the freshmen was just no one's business. Indications are they probably will not be given more than two or four new plays this week, special attention being paid to those now being used.

Practice throughout the week probably will be confined to the same round of practice and scrimmage that was gone through Tuesday night, with special attention being paid to a forward pass or defense.

BADGER HARRIERS MEET NOTRE DAME SATURDAY

Madison.—(AP)—It will be entirely Wisconsin Saturday when the Badger cross country team, western conference champions for four successive years, opens its season against the University of Notre Dame here. Everyone of the 12 members of the Wisconsin team is a boy from the Badger state. The race will be three miles over the Lake Mendota course here.

After four years of undisputed glory Coach T. E. Jones believes that the team will turn out for the first time since 1923, the Cardinals may run under the flag as the second team.

According to reports from South Bend, Ind., Coach P. Nicholson, who received his training under Coach Jones at the University of Missouri, is bringing a veteran team to Madison.

Wisconsin has only one veteran, Carl Bill Burgess, LeCrosse, who, while not an outstanding performer, is a consistent runner and is expected to place well toward the front.

Nine men, to run with Burgess, will be selected from among: Ocock, Milwaukee; Goldworthy, Mineral Point; Wilson, Slinger; Folson, Fond du Lac; Dilley, Union Grove; Mac, Milwaukee; Schroeder, Racine; Egert, Marshfield; Hoffman, Milwaukee; Ickle, Madison, and Friedl, Antigo.

Des Moines, Ia.—Henry Palegano, San Francisco, outpointed Olie Earhart, Minneapolis, (10); Hymie Wiseman, Des Moines, outpointed Dave Young, Kansas City, (10).

YANKS MIGHT HAVE EASY SLEDDING IF PENNOCK WERE O. K.

Wee Southpaw Tied Record of 5 Wins, No Losses in Series

New York.—(AP)—Injured by a ball batted in practice on the eve of the 1927 world series, Herbert J. Penneck recovered to turn back the Pirates in the third phase of that battle and so the John Wesley Coomb's record of five victories and no defeats in the fall classic. Will the Yankee southpaw be able to overcome neuritis this year to gain a chance at bettering the mark of the former Athletics star?

Miller Huggins wishes he knew. The little Miller said just the other day that the pennant road would have been very simple for the champions had Penneck been able to take his regular turn through the last five weeks of the fight.

In scoring five victories while suffering no defeats Jack Coombs had easy sailing in three games. Penneck's last game of work hard for every decision he gained, save only last year's victory over the Pirates. In 1910 Colby Jack turned back the Chicago Cubs three times, but the young Athletics champions gave him 8 runs with which to work.

In 1911 Jack had to have the help of Frank Baker's famous home run off Christy Mathewson to put out his single victory, while the injury which shortened his baseball days caused him to be removed from his second start just in time to avoid defeat. He got credit for his fifth victory in 1916 when he pitched Brooklyn to its lone victory over the Red Sox.

Penneck got his world series baptism in 1910 when he pitched against the Boston Red Sox in the first game of the Boston debacle for Bob Shawkey. He pitched no more blue ribbon contests until he joined the Yankees in 1923. The star left-hander won his first game rather handily that fall when Babe Ruth hit two home runs, but his second came harder. Penneck was behind until the Yankees put on their famous rally against Art Nehf and Ross Bill Ryan in the eighth inning of the sixth game.

In 1926 Penneck twice defeated Willie Sherdel in close battles, the second being tied in the ninth and pulled out in the tenth. Last year Herb came within five put-outs of a perfect game against the Pirates and ended with a three-hit victory, 8 to 1.

The records of the two hurlers in world series warfare follow:

Year	Opponent	Score	Hits Allowed
1923—Giants	4-2	9
1926—Giants	6-4	10
1926—Cardinals	2-1	3
1927—Cardinals	9-2	7
1927—Pirates	8-1	3
Ten innings.
1910—Cubs	5-3	8
1911—Cubs	12-5	6
1911—Cubs	7-2	6
1911—Giants	2-2	3
1916—Red Sox	4-3	7
Eleven innings.

BADGER BACKS TOLD WHAT THEY'LL DO

Neil Hayes, Mooseheart, Changed from Half to Full-back Post

Madison.—(AP)—The men who are called on to make the one or two yards for first down have an added brother Wednesday in Neil Hayes, Mooseheart, Ill. veteran Wisconsin quarter and half back.

The move came Tuesday, when Coach Glenn Thistlethwaite transferred the Mooseheart junior from a running half back post to that of full back to replace Harold Smith, sophomore from Milwaukee and Harold Rehbold, Portage veteran. Hayes reformed as full back in high school and on the 1926 Wisconsin freshman team.

It also was announced Tuesday what the backfield players would do. The full backs are named, blocking half backs are Price, Sheehan and Kitchell Smith, Running half backs are Lusby, Oman, Davidson, Bartholomew and Rose while Bear, Cuisinier and Oberdorfer are the quarter backs.

Possibility that Larry Shomaker, veteran center from Herrin, Ill., would not play against Notre Dame Saturday was renewed Tuesday afternoon when he again injured his right ankle and had to be helped off the field. He injured the member a week ago in scrimmage.

Last night's drill was the lightest of the week, with stress being laid on punting and passing. Sam Behr, Rockford, Ill., and brother of last year's basketball captain, punted well and did the best drop kicking of the squad. He also proved adept at snatching passes.

It was believed that August Bachus, Milwaukee guard, whose scholasticity all night, but definite word has been received.

WOMANS CLUB BOWLERS ROLL ON ARCADE ALLEYS

A set of preliminary games was bowled at the Arcade bowling alley Monday night by six teams organized under the direction of Miss Roubush of the Appleton Womens club. These six teams will comprise the greatest part of the Womens club bowling league, which will be formed next Monday. It is hoped that the league will be composed of eight teams this year.

Minneapolis.—King Tut, Minneapolis, outpointed Ted Moran, junior lightweight champion (10); non-title; Dick Daniels, Minneapolis, knocked out Earle Blue, St. Paul, (6).

Around The Sport World

HE DON'T MEAN MAYBE

DISCUSSING the marathon abilities of ball players at the feed box, Mark Roth, traveling secretary of the New York Yankees, was quoted recently as handing the championship to Rip Collins, who once pitched for the New Yorks, the Detroit, and who has been hauled back recently by the Browns.

"Collins was the champ of all the champions I ever have seen, and I did give him the title," Roth said. "But he didn't win the crown by eating that 1-buck breakfast you told about. He got the championship by good serious and steady eating day in and day out."

"He had a little bit of strategy that became an art with him. He was so good at it that it required months to know he was doing it, and he was so clever we never caught him in the act."

"You know the ball club pays the fodder bill for the athletes when they are on the road, but the appetites of the warriors curb. They are allowed on our club to sign checks for not more than four bucks' worth of rations per day. And in some cases, like Rip's four bucks' worth of groceries was a painful diet. But Rip beat the game."

TOUGH TO BE MISSING

"HE KNEW every athlete on the club, of course. He would sit at the dining room and count the eaters as they went in to put on the bag. Sometimes one of the boys, or maybe two, three, four or five of them, would pass up a meal. Rip would make a note of the number and the names of all the missing, feeders and just as the last meal gong was about to sound he would charge into the mess hall and eat for all the missing men.

"If four of the heroes didn't feel like eating that particular meal Rip would take care of it for them. He would order the rations that belonged to the missing men, eat them and sign their checks. And he got a shot at the first meal of the day and there was only one missing breakfast guest, the missing one might find out later that his four bucks' allowance had been exhausted by the check for his breakfast."

"Yes, sir, that Collins boy could eat."

LOOSE WITH HIS CHANGE

The Cleveland boys tell a story about a big pitcher who, just for clarity, will be called "Big Jim." Jim was a tremendous eater when he didn't have to pay for it, and he always liked to go to Boston, where American plan meals were served and where one particular old waiter took a delight in bringing the ball players extra portions of the whole works.

The old waiter was very fond of Big Jim, and he knew that a great big fellow had to have plenty of victuals to go on. He would always bring Jim three or four orders of everything on the bill and when three slabs of pie and two pots of coffee had polished off the banquet he would ask:

"Anything else, Jim?"

And Jim would always tell him: "Slip me a little half order of more pie."

And while the waiter was going for the little hunk of more pie Jim would take the air, leaving nothing behind him as a gratuity.

MARQUETTE GROOMED ON PASSING ATTACK

Swede Gebert Again Appears to Be Biggest Threat of Avalanche

Milwaukee.—Practice sessions this week of the Marquette university football squad find Coach Frank J. Murray stressing the points in which the Golden Avalanche was weak as St. Viator college was crushed last Saturday, 31 to 0.

The Hilltoppers' next game will be with their ancient foe, Lawrence college, at Appleton. The next home game will be with the Drake university Bulldogs of Des Moines, Ia., here on Oct. 12.

Forward pass defense and offense and tackling are catching the attention of Murray this week. Marquette always has been noted for a strong aerial game and the first tilt showed that the Avalanche must brush up in that department. Defensively, the locals looked none too good against the long heaves of St. Viator. As for the tackling, the blue and gold eleven was considerably better in its first game this year than in the opener of 1927.

Any ideas that Capt. Walter (Swede) Gebert, Marquette's all-American halfback, would be a bit off-form this fall as a result of an illness last spring were dispelled in the opening game, for the "blind locomotive" showed mid-season style as he scored the Hilltoppers' first three touchdowns, reeled off 35, 28, and 15 yard gains, knocked down opponents' passes and tackled fiercely.

Murray made something thirty-five substitutions during the game, and saw much to praise, much to remedy as his youngsters cavorted. Some of the sophomores showed great promise, notably such men as Francis Linscott, fullback from Portage, Red Bullman, center from Green Bay, Bill Glasheen, Kaukauna, John Gritzmacher, Mukwonago, and Tony Doranoff and Bill Hyde, Milwaukee, all tackles, and Joe King, Chicago, guard.

LAWRENCE FROSH TO PLAY KAUKAUNA

Two Games Scheduled for Yearlings During Fall Season

Lawrence college freshmen will get their first taste of football under the yearling colors Saturday afternoon when Coach Joseph Trepani will take them over to Kaukauna to do battle with Elmer Ott's high school aggregation. The game is one of two the frosh will be permitted to participate in this fall. The other will be with Oshkosh Normal at a date unnamed.

From frosh possibilities this year are pretty much a question. Many of the youngsters admit they haven't played football before but have shown a world of stuff since donning the red jerseys of the freshmen. About six youngsters have admitted former relations with the game and naturally show up well.

Appleton's main representative on the team, Carl Kunitz, has been out of practice for the last week because of an ankle injury. Indications are he will not be available for Saturday's battle.

Tuesday evening the youngsters rehearsed a few plays and then were taken out on the scrimmage field against the varsity. They probably will perfect most of their attack formations late this week.

Portland, Me.—Andy Callahan, Lawrence, Mass., outpointed Johnny Harris, Denver, (5).

Against Coach Butler's fresh eleven Tuesday, frequent changes in the forward wall positions were made by Assistant Coach Russell Rippe, who again directed line activities.

SHADES OF HESTON, COLLEGE GRIDERS DRINK MALTED MILK

Northwestern University Coach Decries Drink After Practice

Chicago.—(AP)—Orange juice and psychology may be a boon to Rob Zuppko's fighting Illinois in their effort to repeat as Big Ten football champions, but at Northwestern, chocolate malted milk is Coach Dick Hanley's training selection.

With practice sessions continuing long after the dinner hour under the glare of flood lights, Hanley has decreed that all players shall drink malted milk immediately after leaving the field. Orange juice still remains the piece de resistance for after practice tid-bit on warmer evenings. The malted milk-orange juice diet supplants the energy of last season, which was not so successful as a training diet if the record of the wildcats is any criterion.

Inasmuch as classes detain most of the Northwestern gridgers until the sun has set the ghost ball and flood lights have made their appearance for the first time in a northwestern camp. Under the artificial lights Hanley is driving his men at a fast clip to iron out the defects before the opening encounter with Butler Saturday.

Injuries having cut inroads on Notre Dame's host of backfield material, the starting lineup against Wisconsin Saturday remains very much in doubt. The South Bend grip camp became more gloomy Tuesday, when Bernie Leahy, a triple threat back and Savoldi, a husky sophomore, were forced out of practice with injuries. With these two men added to the backfield casualty list, five of Rockne's leading backs are on the shelf—Niemi, Collins, Bray, Leahy and Savoldi.

Waite Hoyt Listed Among Really Great Pitchers

BL HENRY L. FARRELL

ONLY the greatest pitchers are able to maintain a steady winning pace over a period of years.

The best of pitchers have their good years and their bad years with such regularity that their managers make their plans and build their hopes accordingly.

Charley Root had a great year last year with the Chicago Cubs but when the chances of the club in the 1928 race were being discussed last winter, Root was rated as a doubtful quantity.

"He was too good last year. He is due for an off-year this year," it was said.

For the same reason the new owner of the Cleveland Indians were optimistic about the chances of their club.

"While it is due for a good year," they said, "He was off last year and he works that way. He ought to be good this year."

Some pitchers have one great season and come back the third season after the intermediate slump. The flashes have one great season and never show again.

Considering consistency over a long period of years, there is no pitcher in the game today like Old Pete Alexander. Urban Shocker ranked next to him in the life-time averages, but poor Shocker is gone.

Among those rated as veterans there is Waite Hoyt, the ace of the New York Yankee staff, who is going right along in the accumulation of a great record.

It seems rather out of tune to hear Hoyt referred to as a veteran. It doesn't seem so many years since he was known throughout the land as the Brooklyn school boy.

It hasn't been so long, in fact. And it hasn't been so many years since Bobby Jones was the Georgia child and Vinnie Richards was the New York infant.

Hoyt is only 29 years old now but he has been pitching professional baseball since he was a pink-cheeked, roly-poly kid of seventeen.

He was with the Giants when he was 19 and although he lasted only one inning he got his name in all the papers and his picture has been appearing in print with increasing regularity ever since.

Hoyt led the American League last year in the least number of runs scored against him per game. And he will be close to the top this year. That is some sort of consistency in a day when pitching consistency is a gem.

He won 22 games and lost 7 last year and he won 21 games and lost only 7 this year. And four of the games he lost went against him by one run.

In eight years with the Yankees he won 143 games and lost 37 for an average of .621 and in that time the earned run average against him has been about 3.40 per game.

Hoyt is a rugged young fellow who thinks enough of baseball as a career to keep in condition. He takes very good care of himself and he should have several good years ahead of him because his arm is not on the verge of decay and he has a good head when the other machine gets creaky.

He has made good money and cut in on a lot of world series dough since he has been with the Yankees. He is a mortician during the winter months and is the owner of a new home and estate at Larchmont, N. Y.

RESUME "LITTLE SERIES" WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON

Indianapolis.—(AP)—Rested by two days idleness, Rochester and Indianapolis, winners respectively of the pennants in the International league and the American association Tuesday were cocked to go in the fifth game of the little world's series here. The contest was set for 2 o'clock central standard time.

The local club had an edge on its eastern rival, with two victories and one defeat. The other contest ended in a tie. Wednesday's game will be the first played in Indianapolis.

Indianapolis.—(AP)—Roy Wallace, Indianapolis, outpointed Johnny Mason, Scranton, Pa., (10).

PICK ESPINOSA TO MEET HAGEN
Two Veterans Appear Best Bets to Survive in Elimination Rounds
Baltimore — (AP) — They're picking Al Espinosa of the Chicago Espinosas, to emerge as the final round opponent of Walter Hagen, in the current national professional golf tournament in which the Hags is after his eighth consecutive championship. Since back in 1923 when Gene Sarazen beat out Sir Walter in the final for this same crown, the little Indian has been rated as the special nemesis of Hagen in this particular tournament—and so it may prove. But if Sarazen is to beat him this time it will not be in the final round. They are both in the lower half of the draw and will meet in the semi-finals if they get that far. Among the other well known names in the list of 16 players still remaining Wednesday are those of Willie Macfarlane who trimmed Jim Foulis, Hines, Ill., 9 and 7; Leo Diegel, who dashed an out nine of 31, four under par in downing Anthony Manero of Elford, N. Y., 10 and 8; and Al Watrous, who needed all his skill to beat Olin Dutra, young Californian. All these are favored to come through successfully in the second rounds, the one match which might be said to be a "natural" being that between Barnes and Sarazen.

TWO-THIRDS RULE SHREWD MOVE BY JACKSON'S AIDS

Strategists Wanted to Make
Van Buren's Nomination
Impressive

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This story tells of the first national political conventions and the birth of the two-thirds rule. It is the seventh article in Rodney Dutcher's series, "The Presidential Parade.")

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
(Copyright, 1928, by Post Pub. Co.)
Washington—The first national political conventions were held in the campaign of 1828, when President Andrew Jackson ran for re-election and overwhelmingly defeated Henry Clay.

The three which nominated presidential candidates all met in Baltimore.

In September, 1820, Anti-Masons from New England, New York, Ohio, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware met at Philadelphia in national convention. This movement dated back to 1826, when William Morgan was supposed to have been kidnapped and murdered for revealing secrets of Freemasonry. The movement had spread through the north, figuring frequently in state elections.

The 96 delegates at Philadelphia voted for a second convention a year later at Baltimore, which met and almost unanimously nominated former Attorney General William Wirt, a Marylander. Wirt went to the convention in response to the notification, announced that he had been a Mason, that Masonry didn't appear to be such a bad thing anyway, and that if he had been nominated under a misapprehension the party had better get someone else. But the nomination was unanimously affirmed. Party leaders hoped they had named a man who would have the support of the anti-Jackson National Republicans led by Clay. They didn't know Clay.

CLAY NOMINATED
The National Republicans, or Whigs, met at Baltimore in December, 1831, with 187 delegates from 17 states. Temporary and permanent chairmen were named. The delegates voted by rising and announcing their choice as their names were called and Clay was nominated unanimously, with John Sergeant of doubtful Pennsylvania for vice president.

The convention issued an address to the people denouncing the administration for partisanship, corruption, abuse of power, tariff treachery, the war on the United States Bank and so on.

It recommended a national convention of young men which met in May, accepted the nominations and adopted a series of resolutions regarded as the first platform adopted in national convention. The assembly was called "Clay's Infant-School."

Jackson's Toast to U. S.

Andrew Jackson here is shown in a toast "to our Federal Union—it must be preserved," from the painting by C. W. Jefferys.

The platform echoed the bigger convention's address.

Politicians of Jackson's "Kitchen Cabinet" board of strategy fomented the first Democratic National convention in order to nominate Martin Van Buren for the vice presidency. The Jacksonians had called themselves Democrats since the last election. Van Buren's nomination had to be manipulated, because he was not popular with the masses. Delegates were advised that they had better support him unless they cared to "quarrel with the general."

DICTATES NOMINATION
Jackson was not nominated—his candidacy was merely endorsed. He dictated Van Buren's nomination, made by 208 of 283 votes. No platform was adopted.

At this convention Jackson—or his strategists—put through the famous two-thirds rule which has plagued the Democratic party ever since, providing that "two-thirds of the whole number of votes in the convention shall be necessary to constitute a choice." The most widely accepted theory is that Jackson wanted to make Van Buren's nomination impressive. One delegate argued that a two-thirds nomination would carry greater moral weight and indicate a concurrence of opinion. Even then, the rule had its opponents.

Despite Van Buren's unpopularity, the party was solidly behind Jackson. At the outset, Vice President Calhoun, Senators Webster, Clay, back in congress as senator from Kentucky—and Secretary of State by withdrawing government deposits. Jackson called it "The Monster." Clay made the bank finance his campaign. It spent $80,000, bribing editors, spreading propaganda, and forming a combination of capital against Jackson. Senator Webster, who represented merchants, manufacturers and financiers, was on its payroll. The masses were well convinced of its iniquities.

Another issue centered on whether Jackson attended church regularly. Stories were circulated about his poor health and it was alleged that he would resign in favor of Van Buren after inauguration. The duels of both candidates were luridly rehearsed. The first political cartoons, anti-Jackson, were used—one showing Jackson as a crowned devil handing the scepter to Van Buren. Poor Clay never could realize that he had to "kid" the public. He sought to merge the classes—business, finance, Nullificationists, the rich southern planters, religious sects, the anti-Masons, western farmers and land speculators. He seriously considered Calhoun's proposal to take over the Clay strength in certain southern states and, carrying them, throw the election into the House where Clay could be elected.

Jackson's strategists merged the masses and won. They appointed a Jackson leader in every village and played to the tall grass for the great mass of new voters. They formed campaign glee clubs, mass meetings with spellbinders and torchlight parades. They propagandized small country newspapers.

Clay hoped to carry Pennsylvania and especially New York, where his ticket was merged with the Anti-Masonic ticket. But the returns gave him only Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Delaware, Maryland and Kentucky. Wirt carried Vermont. He had sought to withdraw after Clay's nomination, being primarily anti-Jackson, and the Wirt-instructed electors would have been delivered to Clay if that could have helped him win. The 1832 vote was:

	Popular	Electoral
Jackson	687,500	213
Clay	520,000	49
South Carolina, controlled by the Nullifiers, threw away its electoral vote on Governor Floyd of Virginia. Floyd and Wirt got about 30,000 popular votes between them.

"LOVE FOR TWO"

by Ruth Dewey Groves
1928 By N. E. A. Service, Inc.

THIS HAS HAPPENED BERTIE LOU WARD marries ROD BRYER, who had previously been engaged to LILA MARSH. Lila makes life miserable for the bride until she meets a rich MR. LOREE and marries him. Then she asks Bertie Lou to forgive the past. Trying to keep up socially with wealthy friends, plunges the Bryers in debt and Rod becomes depressed. Lila seizes her chance to persuade him to accept a higher salary from Loree. Shortly after, she asks Rod to put some jewels in the safe during her husband's absence. They disappear and Rod wants to notify the police, but Lila insists that they keep the matter secret, pointing out that suspicion him might spoil his career. Bertie Lou finds out that he has been seeing Lila secretly and is heartbroken.

She is called home to her sick mother and has to catch a train without seeing Rod. The separation, added to Lila's plotting cause a coldness to spring up between them. Each expects the other to make advances or explanations.

Rod goes to the Lorees without her and Bertie Lou goes out with MARCO PALMER to retaliate. One evening Rod finds her packing a suitcase for a weekend at the Palmer estate and admits to himself that their love is dead and that he is infatuated with Lila.

He is stunned to learn that Lila deceived him about the stolen jewels when a connoisseur admires her pearls at a dinner party. Confronted, she admits that she gave him an empty case and plotted to make him dependent on her generosity to win back his love from Bertie Lou.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXXIV

Rod bent his head far back and Lila drew away with a little laugh. "We can forget everything that happened," she said softly, "and just take our happiness in our own way. Hold me in your arms, Rod. Please. We're right to each other."

Rod perked himself free of her embrace and took a step backward. He came up sharply against the grill railing. "Lila, you're crazy," he said. "How could there be any happiness for us together?"

Lila looked at him with a touch of scorn. "Must I literally throw myself at your feet?" she taunted him.

"But there's Cy.....and Bertie Lou!" Rod reminded her with great simplicity.

"What do they count?" Lila demanded. "Cy ought to know what an old man gets when he marries a young girl! And Bertie Lou doesn't care a snap of her fingers for you!"

"Even so, we're married to them," Rod replied, a trifle wearily.

Lila drew in her breath and pressed closer to him. "What of that?" she asked. "Marriage needn't keep us from being happy, need it? Oh Rod, don't sacrifice me for two people who don't know what it means to be in love!"

"Are you going to leave Cy?" Rod asked her. "I couldn't let you do it for me, Lila. I just couldn't, that's all. Cy's my friend."

Lila ran a smooth finger along his cheek and curled it over his ear. "I don't intend to break his heart, Rod," she said, "but he's going on a trip next week....."

"My God, Lila, haven't you any decency?" Rod cried, breaking entirely free of her clinging arms. His words were like a lash across Lila's face.

"I didn't know you were squeamish," she fired at him. "You ought to divorce Bertie Lou if you think so much of decency."

Rod moved toward the door without answering her but she was before him like a darting flame and stood with her back again the door handle.

"So that got you, did it?" she mocked him. "It isn't so pleasant to hear a truth like that, is it? All right to talk to me about decency, but how about a man who permits his wife to fall for another man and makes no effort to prevent it?"

Rod fairly trembled with outraged feelings as he stood before her and listened to her scathing denunciation.

"You've led me into this," she went on. "Everyone knows you don't care what Bertie Lou does. Well, why shouldn't you care..... unless you wanted to be free to do the same? You're a big fraud with your talk of decency. I'd like to know how you get that way?"

Rod tried to brush past her. "Oh, no," she stopped him. "I'll hear the rest of it, Mr. Good. You told me yourself that Bertie Lou's gone out to Marco Palmer's place," she laughed shrilly. "A house party! Are you kidding me or yourself? Decency, ha, ha. I'm not good enough to get on with you, but your innocent little wife, who belongs to Marco Palmer, is good enough to be married to....."

"Move, or I'll make you," Rod ordered in a voice that vibrated with suppressed fury. Lila threw her head back and closed her eyes.

"Too! I'll have to make you," she dared. The next instant she was rudely and very forcibly thrust aside.

When she righted herself Rod was gone.

But his destination was given no thought in the blind horror that possessed him. Lila's words seared like red hot irons into his consciousness. Oh how damnably sure she had been! Bertie Lou and Marco Palmer! Fool, fool, fool! Could he see? It wasn't true! God, it wasn't true! He found himself at home. Not one step of the way he had traversed remained in his memory. He might have walked miles or blocks; he couldn't have told which had he not known the distance.

The apartment was unbearable. He went into Bertie Lou's room. That was the worst place of all, with red and peaceful in the early morning light.

Most of the windows were shuttered, but a few on the second floor showed drawn blinds. There was a wooden door, used to close the house during the family's sojourn in the South or abroad, leaning against an outside wall.

Rod understood. Marco was using the house in his parents' absence. He instructed the taxi driver to wait for him, and walked up to the door to ring. As he reached forth his hand he saw with surprise that the door was not on the latch. It swung open a few inches and Rod obeyed an impulse to enter without ringing.

Inside a strange sight met his eyes. The furniture of the hall was still shrouded in linen covers and the floor was bare. Top coats and hats were thrown over chairs and on stands, indicating that Marco had not brought a butler out with him. But those carelessly-placed coats were a welcome sight to Rod.

It was a house party! A flood of relief that soothed him like cool water on a parched tongue swept over him. He strode on into the living room, oblivious of trespassing; not caring, had it occurred to him.

The living room presented a deplorable sight. The air reeked of stale tobacco smoke, and countless ash trays, filled with cigarette ends were everywhere. Trays with tell-tale glasses, green and brown pinch bottles, with an array of smaller bottles about them like chicks huddling around a squat hen, decorated the room lavishly.

Rod saw a piano with a torn record trailing out of it like a gigantic ticker tape. The floor was marked by dancing feet and some of the covered furniture was heaped in piles, or overturned. A few chairs and a davenport near the fireplace had been uncovered. One chair, pinned to the back, was a corsage of orchids.

Rod turned grim at the sight of it. Bertie Lou and orchids. Did she get so many that she cared little for them? But who would think of flowers at a party such as this must have been?

LITTLE JOE

A LOCOMOTIVE PULLS A TRAIN, BUT THE FREIGHT MAKES THE CARGO.

So this was the man whom Lila linked with Bertie Lou!

Rod noticed that he was wearing a silken dressing gown and bedroom slippers. Not a bad looking boy.

But what sort was he to pull a thing like this under his mother's roof, even if he was going to marry the girl?

Rod's lips curled in contempt, but he went on, intending to make Marco tell him where he could find Bertie Lou. Halfway down the corridor he stopped. A maid had appeared from some backstairs, bearing a breakfast tray in her arms. He could inquire of her, and possibly avoid a scene with young Palmer.

The girl did not take any notice of him, and just as he was about to speak to her she reached the door of the room Marco had left, and rapped upon it. It was opened at once by someone Rod could not see. But he heard a voice directing the girl where to put the tray.

The voice was Bertie Lou's.

Everything About Majestic Radio IS Majestic

The finest woods and finest workmanship that brains and unlimited resources can create. All cabinets made in Majestic's own great, modern cabinet plants.

Rigid and sturdy throughout. Trim and beautiful in design, and at the same time built to give lasting satisfaction. All parts readily accessible.

Majestic receivers reveal a fidelity, breadth, and magnificence of tone without distortion, that will thrill you. Both high and low notes of all broadcast auditions faithfully reproduced.

Designed, and manufactured in the Majestic plants. The most rigid tests have demonstrated conclusively its dependable construction, its ability to withstand the most severe shocks, its consistent high performance in the face of all climatic changes.

Majestic supremacy in the manufacture of all electric radio power is acknowledged. All power units for the new receivers designed for performance of the highest quality, under the most exacting conditions.

Majestic receivers are true one-dial sets and are so constructed that a child may secure remarkable results over the entire range of stations.

An outstanding feature that has amazed even veteran radio engineers. Under actual tests, in comparison with every leading make of set, no matter what the price or number of tubes, Majestic has "out-picked" and "out-distanced" anything on the market.

Majestic prices speak for themselves. Stated briefly, comparison will show them the highest quality receivers in the world for the least money.

Book Of Knowledge

Our Presidents

The period during which President Johnson held the chief executive office was one of the stormiest in the country's history. Republican members of Congress fought him and tried to take away his power. The quarrel grew so bitter that Johnson was impeached in 1868. He was brought before the Senate on charges of abusing his power.

By NEA, Through Special Permission of the Publishers of The Book of Knowledge, Copyright, 1922-26.

A two-third vote would have been required to find Johnson guilty. Thirty-five senators voted guilty and nineteen not guilty.

If one man had changed his vote, President Johnson would have been removed from office. This never has happened to a president of the United States.

During the years of Johnson's administration the Atlantic cable finally was put into successful operation. The Alaskan territory was purchased from Russia for $7,200,000 and Nebraska entered the Union. Maximilian, the emperor set up by the French in Mexico, was executed in 1867.

NEW WHEAT ELEVATOR FOR CANADIAN GROWERS

Winnipeg, Manitoba (AP)—Grain will flow into a new storage elevator at Port Arthur, Ontario, at the rate of 500 carloads a day and out to Great Lakes grain ships at 150,000 bushels an hour, under present plans for handling the Saskatchewan crop. The new elevator, designed to be the largest in the world, with capacity of 6,900,000 bushels, has track age for 225 loaded cars and five automatic dumpers capable of unloading a car in 10 minutes. With the terminal at Buffalo, N. Y., and facilities on the prairies, members of the Saskatchewan pool will have available storage space for 50,000,000 bushels for the 1928-29 crop.

Canadian grain also will flow westward a terminal with a storage capacity of 4,650,000 bushels being under construction at Vancouver, B. C., for the use of members of the Alberta pool. Other facilities bring Alberta storage capacity to a total of 5,200,000 bushels.

MANY NEW BOOKS ADDED TO SHELVES OF PUBLIC LIBRARY

Total Circulation for September Is 2,217, City Librarian Reports

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—Many new books have been added to the New London Public Library during the past month and an increase in circulation of 111 issues over September, 1927, is shown, according to the report of Miss Alice Freilburger, librarian. There were 251 volumes of children's non-fiction drawn last month, and 632 children's fiction, making a total of 883 issues in the juvenile department. A total of 1,325 books was issued from the adult department, including 221 non-fiction, 1,005 fiction, 9 German books, and 33 periodicals and pamphlets. Miss Freilburger said that there is a great preference for fiction reading in both adult and juvenile departments, the past month showing a fiction majority of 1,637 over 472 non-fiction. The reading of periodicals is the favorite in the non-fiction department, other classes according to popularity being literature, history, travel, pamphlets, biography, fine arts, sociology, natural science and philosophy.

MOST POPULAR BOOKS
The fifteen most popular fiction books during September were: About Ourselves, Overstreet; Battle of the Horizons, Thompson; Bridge of San Luis Rey, Wilder; The Children, Wharton; Cowboy, Santie; France is We'll of Frenchmen, Galton; Gen. de Damme, Doty; Safari, Johnston; Singing in the Rain, Monroe; Skyward, Byrd; Strange Interlude, O'Neill; Stump Farm, Rose; Swan Song, Galsworthy; Two Flights Up, Rhinehardt. Other new volumes placed in circulation last month in the adult section are:

Aldrich—A Lantern in Her Hand. A story of a pioneer woman, her life on the prairie, and the cheerful courage and sturdy faith that were her companions. It is a rich and memorable novel.
Byrne—Destiny Bay. The book has love and romance, and comedy and a touch of tragedy, and through it flows that understanding of the race and the beauty of style that only a Byrnes can command.
Gallagher—Strange Fugitive. This is a first novel by Morley Gallagher, a young Canadian who has aroused admiration in literary circles with his short stories.
Parrish—All Kneeling. This novel was chosen by the Book Seller as the best book of the month. The title refers to the attitude taken by relatives and friends towards Christabel Calne.

Smith—Surrender. The deep friendship of two men, cemented by common experiences and dangers, meets its great test in the love of both for the same woman.
Forbes—Marios Castle. A new story for girls by the popular author of Araminta and Mary and Marcia stories. This time it is a tale of travel and mystery laid in Italy.
Hodder—Pax, the Adventurous Horse. This novel about a stolen horse was written 17 years ago by Miss Hodder at the age of eleven.
Lansing—Magic Gold. This is a story of times full of endeavors, thrills and hazards with which the lives of the modern boy and girl are wholly unfamiliar.

MacDonald—Count Billy. It tells the story of Billy who is now seven, living in a fisherman's cottage and dreaming of one day claiming his inheritance as a Spanish count.
CHILDREN'S BOOKS
Children's books include: Brooks—True Story of U. S. Grant; Burgess—Little Joe Otter; Crowfield—Little Tailor of the Windy Way; Wadley—School Four; Herben—Jack Wadley and Peg O'Joy; Kingsley—Wadley Babes; Lucille—Nobody's Girl; Perkins—Cave Twins; Perkins—Dutch Twins; Perkins—French Twins; Schwartz—Grasshopper Green's Garden; Sherman—Children's Bible; Smith—Jolly Good Times; White—Peggy in Her Blue Frock; White—Magic Forest.

With the exception of the following book, the list of children's books are all readers: Hamburg—Beginning to Fly. Written by the secretary of the Airplane Model League of America and tells in simple language just how to build and fly the best and most up-to-date model planes.
MORE ADULT BOOKS
Burrell—Our Girls and Our Times. Some of the problems of parent and daughters are discussed and sensible suggestions for dealing with them are presented in a straightforward manner.
Chapman—Happy Mountain. The August books of the Literary Guild of America. A novel depicting life in the Kentucky mountains by one who has lived and taught in them.
Cockrell—Hence of Heaven. A gay and amusing novel of modern youth in a setting where the atmosphere and traditions of the old south still linger.
Murasaki—Blue Trousers. A beautiful story of royal life in Japan written by Lady Murasaki and translated by Arthur Waley.
Rinehart—Bab a Sub-Deb, recorder. Rose—Stump Farm. A collection of letters by Mrs. Rose written to friends. They were collected as a few printed in the Atlantic Monthly. They carry indelible impressions of her struggles and hardships, and her vigorous manner with which she met them.
Santie—Cowboy. This is a fascinating account of a boy who leaves his father's farm in east Texas and wanders west into the cow country, fired with the ambition of becoming a cow puncher.
Shepard—Paul Bunyan, recorder. Thorpe—Walden. A new edition of Walden.
Wharton—The Children. An indictment of the loose standards of modern marriage and divorce. Se-

AGED FARMER DIES AT READFIELD HOME

Body of William Strehlow Found in Bedroom by Daughter and Son-in-law

New London—The body of William Strehlow, 73, was found Tuesday morning at the side of his bed in the town of Readfield. Mr. Strehlow had visited his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Magadan at Mukwa on Monday evening, and appeared to be in good health at the time. The following found the body in the bedroom. Mr. Strehlow lived alone. A physician reported that death probably occurred at about 2 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Mr. Strehlow was born in Germany. Upon emigrating, he moved directly to this community, where the rest of his life was spent. He married Miss Augusta Wendland, who preceded him in death seven years ago.
Survivors are the following children: Mrs. Edward Tesch of Bear Creek, Mrs. Rudolph Ploetz of New London, Mrs. Albert Magadan of Mukwa, Henry Strehlow of Readfield, and Albert Strehlow of Oshkosh. Funeral services will be conducted at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon by the Rev. E. Weyland. Burial will be made in the Caledonia cemetery.

FORMER NEW LONDONER DIES AT RHINELANDER

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—Friends in this city have received word of the death of Charles Scott, 63, which occurred suddenly at his home at Rhinelander Sunday morning. Mr. Scott had been in ill health for over a year as the result of a series of paralytic strokes. For the past two months his condition seemed serious. He was, however, able to be about at times and had driven his automobile about on Sunday morning. Upon returning to his home he sat in a rocking chair to rest and died before aid could reach him. The Scott family resided in this city about 25 years ago when Mr. Scott was passenger agent for the Northwestern railroad. He held this position on two different occasions, previous to and following his period as Kaukauna station agent. He was also station agent at Appleton Junction and had served in the same capacity at Rhinelander for the past 25 years. Funeral services were held Wednesday morning at the home at Rhinelander, the body being taken to Appleton in the afternoon for burial. Surviving are his widow and one daughter, Mrs. L. Nelson of Rhinelander.
Mr. and Mrs. Scott were active in the Congregational church during their residence here and have always continued their interest in the church and its members. They were almost annual visitors here.

STATE LABOR GROUP TO ELECT OFFICERS AT TODAY'S SESSION

Convention of Wisconsin Conference of B. M. and P. I. U. May End Tonight

Discussions of subjects pertaining to the bricklaying, masonry and plastering business took place at the first day's sessions of the annual convention of the Wisconsin State Conference of Bricklayers, Masons and Plasterers International union of America, which opened here Tuesday morning at the Hotel Labor hall. Headquarters for the convention are at Hotel Northern.

About 20 delegates were registered Tuesday and several more were expected Wednesday to take part in transacting the final business of this meeting.

To open the convention Tuesday address of welcome were given by Mayor A. C. Rule in the name of the city and by Fred E. Bachman, president of the Bricklayers, Masons and Plasterers International union of America, on behalf of the workers of the city. Earl W. Oakley, Madison, president of the state conference answered the addresses of welcome.

During the convention addresses also were given by John J. McCloud, Milwaukee, third vice president of the international union; Charles J. Ebert, Milwaukee; Andrew P. Jensen, Racine, vice president; of the state group and Harry W. Klein, Milwaukee, secretary and treasurer. Several delegates also gave addresses.

Tuesday evening a smoker was held at Trades and Labor hall for delegates to the convention. In addition to the delegates about 50 Appleton men attended and several informal talks were given.

The convention again convened at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning when several resolutions of importance to the trade were adopted. Wednesday afternoon the delegates faced the most important meeting of the session as at that time they are to elect officers, choose a convention city for 1929, hear the reports of various officers and wind up the business of the convention.

On Wednesday night the delegates will hold a banquet at Hotel Northern with Mr. McCloud of Milwaukee as the important speaker. He will tell of the importance of cooperation and organization in the trade.

It is possible that the convention won't finish its business Wednesday afternoon and may have to hold another session Wednesday night or Thursday morning.

FAIR DRY GOODS TO CLOSE DOORS

Store Will Remain Open Until Stock Is Sold, Frank Announces

The Fair Dry Goods company on E. College-ave is to discontinue business, according to an announcement made Tuesday by W. W. Frank, manager. The store will remain open until its present stock of merchandise is completely sold out. The dissolution of the corporation will be handled by the law firm of Ryan, Cary and Ryan.

Mr. Frank stated that he had every intention of putting into effect the contemplated alterations when he started the recent Alteration sale. His decision of discontinuing business was brought about by numerous requests by his parents to return to New York and accept a position there; he indicated.

The Fair store was founded in 1890 by Arthur J. Ingold of this city, and was operated successfully for 34 years, after which it was sold to Mr. Frank in 1924. It was then incorporated and the firm was called the Fair Dry Goods company. There are several prospective tenants for the Fair store location, but as yet none have completed negotiations for its occupancy, according to Mr. Frank.

GARBAGE DUMPERS WILL FACE ARREST

Deputy Health Officer Warns N. State-st Residents to Keep Ravine Clean

A continuation of the practice of dumping garbage in the ravine in the 800 block on N. State-st will result in the arrest of offenders, according to a warning issued Tuesday by Theodore Sanders, deputy health officer.

Complaints that the ravine has been used as a dumping ground were received last week by Mr. Sanders, and an investigation last Saturday proved that the practice evidently had been quite common among residents in that neighborhood. While Mr. Sanders was viewing the ravine, he stopped three or four boys from dumping garbage into the grounds. Questioning the boys, he learned that all had been sent by their parents.

"Not only is the practice unsanitary, but it is against the city ordinance," Mr. Sanders said. "Judging from the amount of garbage in the ravine, the premises have been used as a dumping ground for some time. The practice must be discontinued immediately. Hereafter, offenders will be haled into court."

The two-day session of the chiropractors of northeastern Wisconsin, in convention here, closed Wednesday with a speech by Dr. J. A. Pannick of this city, newly elected state chairman of the chiropractic health bureau.

He spoke on the application of chiropractic to disease, stating that 90 per cent of the disease to which man is heir could be avoided by a periodic inspection of the human spine. He also stated that the old type of chiropractic through heavy adjustment is a thing of the past, the modern delicate adjustments being far more effective.

Dr. K. K. Lane of the Palmer school spoke again on the appliance called a neurocolometer.

BOARD OPENS BIDS FOR WIDENING OF CARVER-ST

Bids for widening the Carver-st curve and for improving the alley south of the city barns between S. Walnut-st and the ravine, were opened Wednesday afternoon by the board of public works and tabulated for presentation to the common council Wednesday night. The board met at 1:30.

MANY FARMERS ATTEND HORTONVILLE MEETING

Production and marketing of dairy products was discussed at a meeting of dairy farmers in the opera house at Hortonville Tuesday evening. A large crowd of farmers attended the meeting which was the second of its kind to be held this week. The first meeting was held at Kaukauna Monday night. On Wednesday night a meeting will be held at Beaver Creek. Thursday at Black Creek, Friday at Seymour and Saturday night at Appleton.

The meetings were arranged by R. A. Amundson, county agricultural agent, in conjunction with state and federal agricultural agencies. Speakers at the meetings were B. L. Thomas, Chicago, a member of the Chicago Board of Health and B. E. Billington of the National Cheese Producers' Federation.

SENTENCE GREEN BAY MAN TO COUNTY JAIL

Norbert Cornelius Green Bay, was sentenced to 15 days in the county jail by Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court Tuesday afternoon when he pleaded guilty of using abusive language to an officer. The judge first imposed a sentence of $25 and costs with the option of serving 15 days in the county jail in case he did not pay the fine and costs. Cornelius chose the latter. He was arrested in Oneida Sunday night by Deputy Sheriff Henry Pingle, who also made the complaint. Cornelius was charged with using abusive language early in September.

SUSPEND SENTENCE ON SIEGEL FOR TEN DAYS

Guy R. Siegel, New London, was found guilty by Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court Tuesday afternoon of destroying identification marks on a motor vehicle and a sentence of $200 and costs was imposed. Siegel pleaded for a stay of execution and Judge Berg granted it. It is said that Siegel will appeal the case. He was arrested on May 21, 1928, on complaint of James W. Bodah, Appleton, whose car was stolen and later recovered at Siegel's garage in New London. He charged Siegel destroyed the identification marks on the machine.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph De Lan are spending several days visiting relatives at Oshkosh.

PLANS LAID FOR TRAFFIC STUDY

Division Will Delve into Methods of Packing and Marking Goods

Plans for traffic study work to be started soon by the traffic division of the chamber of commerce were discussed at a meeting of members of the division Tuesday evening at the chamber of commerce. P. C. Wesco is chairman of the division.

The traffic study committee, of which A. W. Liese is chairman was instructed to meet Wednesday evening to complete its survey of the situation and get the first study meetings outlined.

Five topics have been chosen for study and will be divided into subdivisions. The main subjects are proper methods of packing and marking, description of shipments, routes best adapted to individual business needs, proper classification of commodities and traffic glossary.

Plans now are to have the study classes meet every Monday evening at the chamber offices for 12 consecutive weeks. It is believed all the territory of study can be covered in the period.

Comments on the value of study made at the division meeting were that the course has cut down the number of freight claims considerably and therefore will be of advantage to most any shipper.

STREET CREWS WORK ALONG COLLEGE-AVE

Street department repair crews were busy on E. and W. College-ave Wednesday morning filling depressions in the pavement and along street car tracks and around manholes. Tar was placed in the depressions and a fine crushed stone placed on the tar.

COUNCIL TO OPEN BIDS FOR NEW POLICE AUTO

Bids for a new automobile for the Appleton police department, recently advertised for, will be opened Wednesday evening at the meeting of the common council. The bids were received by the city clerk up to 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.
